FIND NEW STORY OF SLAYING

Counsel for Men, Seeking New Trial, Declare They Have Witnesses Not Called on Before

Providence, R. I., Feb. 9.—With new evidence, which they believe tends to show that Dr. Charles Franklin Mohr was shot by robbers, the lawyers for Cecil Victor Brown and Henry Spellman today laid plans for an effort to secure a new trial.

The new evidence comes from witnesses who have not heretofore appeared in the case, and who were really the first to arrive on the scene after the tragedy occurred.

They are a chauffeur and a maid employed at a Summer home near the scene of the shooting. They disappeared shortly after the shooting, but now, it is reported, there is a move which may lead to locating them and bringing them into te case.

The defence lawyers now believe that Dr. Mohr was shot by robbers, that the robbers were ransacking his pockets and had actually removed some valuables, and that they were surprised by the approach of the chauffeur and maid, abandoned their booty and fled.

PETITION ON FRIDAY.

Attorney William M. Lewis will file his application for a new trial for Brown on Friday, it was stated today.

"Since the jury rendered its verdict last Saturday I have received hundreds of letters from different types of people urging me to continue the fight to save Brown and Spellman," said Attorney Lewis.

"There are no new developments in the case so far, but I expect to be in Providence Friday and file a motion for a new trial for the boys. I have the names of two very important witnesses and will undoubtedly confer with them tomorrow."

The "Black Book," the mysterious companion volume mentioned together with the "Red Book" and the "Green Book," and containing secrets that have kept Providence and Newport uneasy during the trial of Mrs. Mohr, threatened today to play a prominent part in the valuation of the estate of

6 MONTHS FOR HOLDING GIRL CAPTIVE

Brockton, Feb. 9.—Arthur Leonard, forty-three, of No. 68 Spring street, was given six months today on a white slavery charge after the police had rescued from his house Viola Thomas, a pretty young woman, who testified she had been kept captive there since a year ago last September.

The girl's mother brought the case to the attention of the police. She said she had received a letter from her daughter, telling the situation, and had gone to the Spring street house and been thrown out.

The police went there and arrested Leonard and released the girl.

Fr. Twomey, Pastor, Restrained From Attempt to Plunge Into Flames to Save Sacred Host

Fire starting the basement storeroom of St. Eulalia's Catholic Church, in East Broadway, near O street, South Boston, burned into the main body of the church today, enveloping the altar, and causing a damage estimated by the Rev. Mortimer E. Twomey, pastor, at $18,000.

Father Twomey was one of the first to reach the church. In spite of the flames that surged up around the altar he had already started to dash through the fire to try to save the sacred vessels in the altar when the sexton, John Flynn, caught him.

Several times firemen and policemen were compelled to restrain the pastor from dangerous attempts to reach the tabernacle where the Sacred Host was.

How the fire started was a mystery. The sexton had opened the church for 7 o'clock mass and was in front of the church shovelling snow off the sidewalks when a passerby, seeing smoke pouring from the open door of the church, yelled to him.

Mr. Flynn at once sounded an alarm and then telephoned to Father Twomey. As soon as the fire department arrived a second alarm was sounded. The building, about eighteen years old, built of wood with stucco finish, seemed doomed. Adjoining it in the school of St. Eulalia's parish. This, too, was threatened. Prompt arrival of second alarm apparatus, however, confined the fire to the church itself.

As soon as the altar could be cooled, Father Twomey, assisted by the Rev. Jeremiah Driscoll, John Troy, president of the St. Eulalia's Men's Club, Patrolman J. Tehan and Lieutenant Samuel Crowley, opened the tabernacle and carried to safety the vessels containing the Blessed Sacrament.

St. Eulalia was originally a chapel in the Gate of Heaven parish. It was established as an independent parish about seven years ago, with Father Twomey as pastor.

SEVEN KILLED IN MINE EXPLOSON

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Feb. 9.—Seven miners are dead today and two perhaps fatally burned as a result of a mine explosion in the Lance mine of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal Company.

"TUNNEL BUILT WRONG," SAYS EXPERT

Peter Witt of Cleveland, an expert on street railways, started on a tour of the Bay State system this morning, and had the interesting experience of helping to lift a heavily-loaded pung off the track at the Chelsea-Revere line. It was Mr. Witt who declared some months ago that the Bay State "needed a sheriff," not increased fares.

Mr. Witt started from the Scollay square subway for Lynn. He has been retained to represent several cities and towns in the hearings on the Bay State's attempt to secure authorization for a six-cent fare.

During the wait for a car in the Scollay Square station, Mr. Witt pointed out that "the tunnel is constructed wrong. The stations should all be on one side." The car that arrived was No. 61, Conductor 807.

"It looks as though it might be of the vintage of 1841," Mr. Witt commented. "It is dirty, needs paint and is very dusty.

"These old, worn, leather straps are all wrong. In Cleveland and other up-to-date cities the straps are replaced by white enamel grips by which a passenger may steady himself.

"This is not the rush hour, but I notice people are forced to stand in the cars."

As the car proceeded on its way, teams hindered its progress, and at length, on the Chelsea-Revere line, a pung, loaded with grain, stalled on the track.

The single horse could not move it, the conductor tried to help; two spare blue-uniformed men on the car took a hand and so did the motorman, but still the pung stuck.

Then all the men passengers on the car were called out, and Mr. Witt and the others laid hold upon that pung and lifted it clear of the track.

The car arrived eventually at Lynn, when Mr. Witt was welcomed by Ralph S. Bauer, who escorted him to the office reserved for him in the Lynn Chamber of Commerce.

RATE CASE CHARGES HEARD

Iowa Railroad Board Head Accuses Boston Man of Breach of Faith at Public Hearing

By International News Service.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Clifford Thorne, chairman of the Iowa Railroad Commissioners, accused Louis D. Brandeis of Boston of breach of faith and unprofessional conduct at a public hearing today before the Senate judiciary sub-committee on President Wilson's nomination of Mr. Brandeis to the Supreme Court.

In reply to questions by Senator Cummins, Mr. Thorne said he had known Mr. Brandeis since 1910. He explained that he met Mr. Brandeis during the 5 per cent. advance railroad rate case before the Interstate Commerce Commission in 1910. At that time Mr. Brandeis, he said, represented the Seaboard Shippers' Association. Mr. Thorne said he himself represented the State of Iowa and a large number of shippers' associations.

In the 1913 rate case, Mr. Thorne said, Mr. Brandeis, at the request of the Interstate Commerce Commission, became counsel for the commission.

"My appearance here was not requested by me. I was asked to come here by the chairman of the sub-committee. The day before he asked me, I received a letter from a Senator asking my opinion of the nomination of Mr. Brandeis," said Mr. Thorne.

ENTERS CHARGES.

"The gentleman under consideration here today, I believe, was guilty of infidelity, breach of faith and unprofessional conduct in connection with one of the greatest cases of this generation.

"I charge that while acting as special counsel for the Interstate Commerce Commission in 1912, Mr. Brandeis committed himself to the proposition that a return of 7½ per cent above debts, interest and taxes, was the capital stock of a railroad adequate, or, as he expressed it, 'regardly,' although that amount had been approved by the commission unanimously as adequate in 1910."

To give the Senate committee a "fair, true understanding" of the situation, Mr. Thorne began a detailed account of the involved rate cases of

RUSS GUILTY OF KILLING HIS WIFE

After being out twenty-three hours, the jury in the case of Oscar F. Russ, who is charged with the murder of his wife, Emily, at their home in Centre street, Roxbury, today returned a verdict of guilty in the second degree.

Russ, who sat with his lawyer, displayed no emotion when the jury reported at 9:40 a. m.

Judge Sisk was on the bench when the jurors filed in and he instructed Clerk Manning to poll them. This done, Clerk Manning addressed them after telling Russ to stand.

"Gentlemen, have you come to an agreement?" asked Clerk Manning.

"We have," replied the foreman, "and it is guilty."

"In what degree?" asked Clerk Manning.

"Second degree," said the foreman.

Judge Sisk thanked the jurors and discharged them. Russ was taken to the Tombs. Sentence will be imposed later.

The trial had been on for two weeks. All of the evidence introduced by the government to connect Russ with the crime was of a circumstantial nature.

The defence contended that Mrs. Russ committed suicide and that Russ had proven that he was not in the house at the time of the woman's death.

The death of Mrs. Russ came to the attention of the police through Russ himself, according to testimony, who said that on his way from work he was forced to break into his house and that he found his wife dead.

The prosecution tried to show that she was killed before Russ left home in the morning to go to work. The woman's throat had been cut and a cord tightly tied around it. A razor lay on her breast.

ANOTHER RAID BY AIRMEN ON SALONIKA

Athens, Feb. 9.—German aviators have made another raid on the allies' camp north of Saloniea. Bombs were dropped on the Anglo-French cantonments at Zeindik, but the machines were driven off before they could do any serious damage.

$20,000 VERDICT AGAINST ELEVATED

Verdicts for $20,000 were today awarded by a jury in the Superior Court to four plaintiffs in an action against the Boston Elevated. The actions were brought for death and personal injuries which resulted from a collision between an auto and a street car on Commonwealth Avenue, at Sherborn Street, Feb. 28, 1915.

Nelson Curtis, administrator of the estate of his wife, Genevieve F. Curtis, received $2,000 for conscious suffering and $6,000 for her death. Frances Curtis received $5,000 for injuries; Mrs. Mary A. Bullard, $4,000 for injuries, and Jane A. Bullard $500 for injuries.

NEW ARCHBISHOP OF CHICAGO INSTALLED

Chicago, Feb. 9.—With impressive ceremonies, the Most Reverend George W. Mundelein of Brooklyn was installed as Archbishop of the Chicago Catholic archdiocese in Holy Name Cathedral today, succeeding the late Archbishop Quigley. Mgr. John Bonzano, apostolic delegates to the United States, conferred the authority of the office of archbishop upon the new head of the archdiocese.

'DYNAMITE KING' NOW WATCHED

Clew to Plotters First Learned Through Limousine on Milk Street; Federal Agents Active

That the "Dynamite King" in the Boston plots boasted that the dynamite bombs used in the Ottawa explosion, the explosives employed in war conspiracies throughout this country as well as Canada, had been manufactured in Boston, was learned today.

The activities of the "Dynamite King," whose identity is known to the police, attracted attention when his limousine was seen repeatedly standing outside the Milk street office where it is believe German plotters held conferences.

The police came upon the case by accident. They were in the Milk street building arousing interest in an entertainment which they were planning.

The facts they discovered were turned over to the United States secret agents and these agents set at work at once.

It was the frequency of the limousine's appearance in Milk street, and the length of the "King's" visits that first attracted attention.

SAYS BOMB WAS MADE HERE.

Persons in the building say the dynamite man had boasted that his firm manufactured and sold dynamite which had been used to destroy munitions plants.

Their statements indicate that the Ottawa plot may have been laid in Boston, and the Dynamite King openly stated, it is said, that the dynamite used in Ottawa was manufactured here.

One of the federal agents in the case has gone to Canada, it was stated today.

United States District Attorney Anderson and Collector of the Port Billings have had charge of the investigation here.

"Suspicious conferences" first attracted attention but Special Agent Fred P. Schmid immediately put the suspected offices under surveillance, and succeeded in installing a dictagraph in the offices where conferences were held.

As a result of the careful guard over all the meetings, extending over weeks, it was claimed today that positive proof was obtained that headquarters for the German war-plotters was transferred from New York to the Milk street office.

DICTAGRAPH PLANTED TO GET PROOF OF PLOT

This startling information was given out at the Federal Building, the carefully worded intimations and only after the United States district attorney and the collector of the Port, the two government representatives in Boston, who would be expected to know specific details, had left the city, presumably for Washington.

Stories of how these plotters were first located in Boston differ. According to one report, enthusiasm selling tickets for the annual police ball walked unexpectedly into an office in the Milk street building, stumbling into a conference of three men at which a dictagraph and secretary officer in uniform was explaining what seemed to be names and plans of Boston's chief enemies.

Another version was that the local detective agency employed by the British government in Boston, was attracted first to the Milk street office by the frequent visits of men wearing uniforms of officers in the United States army.

PLANTED DICTOGRAPH.

In hunting an explanation for these visits, it was claimed, they stumbled across the conference of plotters, and at once reported the suspicious aroused to the British Ambassador, Sir Cecil Spring Rice, who, in turn, complained to the Federal government.

It was after a formal complaint had been made, it was understood today in the Federal Building, that Agent Schmid installed a dictagraph in the suspected office and secured stenographic records of every conversation and conference that took place.

According to this information, conference at which it is hinted that the fire in Ottawa was forecasted, took place last week.

On account of the veiled nature of the conferences, the meaning of the references was not correctly interpreted until the Parliament buildings had been destroyed.

In the light of the Ottawa fire, it is claimed, words, phrases and sentences that had been meaningless before, assumed so important a significance that Special Agent Howard was hurried to Ottawa to aid his superior, Mr. Schmid.

The local men who have attended these suspected conferences have been carefully shadowed, night and day, their telephones kept under surveillance, and records obtained of all their communications. The strangers who attended these meetings, it is said, escaped before the federal agents fully understood the nature of the score before them. It was announced, however, that these men, too, are closely pursued, and their capture is only a matter of hours.

At the Boston office of the department of justice details were made public today. It was stated that the "spy plot." At the same time the significance of the plot was manifested at the premature publicity, which, they claimed, would frustrate any effort on the part of plotters on the part of agents who might be detailed to the work.

YEAR TO CANADA.

According to the rumors current in and about the federal building today, Boston was selected as a headquarters for war-plotters because of the possibility of Canada from Boston, on account of the comparative ease in Boston to obtain explosives, and because no previous intimation of bomb-plots in Boston had aroused suspicions, or increased the difficulty of conference made hazardous by activities in New York.

Another reason advanced for the selection of Boston as a headquarters was said to be the increasing large shipments being made from Boston to Europe of war supplies.

According to the stories hinted, the men suspected of having fired the parliament building in Ottawa stepped off the train from Canada.

Accurate descriptions of the visitors to the suspected offices here were obtained. These men are said to be known to the British Ambassador, and are said to be held back only until corroboration of the suspicions has been obtained in Canada.

ITALIAN ARMIES LACK AMMUNITION

Geneva, Feb. 9.—Lack of ammunition is hampering the Italian campaign against Austria, and is largely held to be the chief reason for Italian inactivity in the Balkans. A dispatch from Paris states that Albert Thomas, French Minister of Munitions, who is going to Rome upon a special mission, will make an agreement with Italy by which the Allies are to furnish her with an enormous quantity of munitions, as well as artillery.

Irishmen in U. S. Start Movement to Liberate Erin

Martin M. Lomasney and assistant District Attorney Daniel V. McIsaac are among the New England men who have signed a remarkable proclamation, made public today, calling upon men of Irish birth or descent to gather at a convention in New York, Dec. 5 and 6, to discuss means for the liberation of Ireland from English rule, and establishment of a republic.

The proclamation containing a virile denunciation of England, England's rule in Ireland here, and concerning England's part in this war, the proclamation says:

"England with her allies, in spite of her boasted supremacy in numbers, in wealth and in territory, has been defeated in every contest where skill and courage and strength have been the weapons and has kept her cause afloat with the neutral world only through secret censorship and cable control through which her favorite weapons of calumny and falsehood have been wielded with the dexterity and success which ripe experience and unlimited tendency have given to her.

"With an ingenuity developed during the centuries, she has cajoled or hired other people to fight her battles, and when they refused or failed her, and with false battle-cries and stolen watchwords has been calling upon the whole world to witness that in the great war, provoked by her for the sordid motives and to the fighting to defend liberty, civilization and humanity.

"Against the proclamation is stood as being

"Ireland has arisen clearly and definitely to the world that Ireland has not been and cannot be absorbed by England. And the proclamation says:

"Ireland looks forward with hope and confidence to the complete breakdown of British misrule as the final and fatal outcome of the present war."

The proclamation continues:

"The Irish race now that success for England would mean only additional years of burdens and a renewal of hopes for her age-long oppression and tyranny. It would mean that the so-called Home Rule Bill, of which the English government had fooled Ireland, would never be put into operation, and Irishmen in Ireland are opening their eyes to the old truth that England is difficult to Ireland's opportunity.

"Here in this Republic democratizing English influences are unceasingly at work. Every possible means which England can command, from the open advocacy of her cause to the malignant abuse and misrepresentation of those who cannot be induced to laugh at her, are to serve her ends, and we are assailed on all sides by critics who would apologize for the Revolution and make us to all intents and purposes again a component part of the British Empire.

"In the rules of war, so far as contraband is concerned, they have been changed by England whenever it seemed to suit her interests; our commerce with neutral countries has been crippled or destroyed; our cargoes have been seized and held for months in British harbors; our mails have been opened and censored, and the protests of our Government have been disdained or ignored by England and openly assailed in the columns of our daily papers.

OPEN INVITATION.

"Against these influences and these actions, Americans of Irish blood with their inherited love of liberty and their knowledge of English guile and English greed, should unitedly rise, and we therefore invite you to assemble in convention in the City of New York, at Faneuil Hall, on the 5th and 6th of March, to consider the following resolutions and to take effective steps toward their solution:

"1. How best to set up that in this, our well-beloved country, the true teachings and practices of Washington and Jefferson, of Jackson and Lincoln may continue to prevail, to the end that what England could not in her various efforts successfully against Ireland by force she may now do by guile and by threats, by bribery of the people by the noisy clamor of her avowed agents or the mistaken zeal of her dupes.

"2. How best to preserve for Ireland the remnant of her manhood and to keep England from sending, either by force, starvation or deceit, the remaining living Irishmen to death or captivity on foreign soil.

"3. How best to destroy for British purposes the value of the proclamation which misrepresent America to Ireland and Ireland to America.

"4. How best to put the people at the Congress of the Nations which, at the close of the war, will settle for generations the map of Europe, the legitimate claims of Ireland to separation from England—by which race, geographical position and interest entirely separate—may receive from the people a measure of consideration, and that the world-long sufferings she may again take her place among the nations of the world."

BIGGEST HOSPITAL SHIP FOR ENGLAND

By the International News Service.

London, Feb. 9.—To England falls the honor of having the biggest hospital ship in the world.

45,000-ton liner Britannic, which was built for the White Star Line. As soon as completed she was taken over by the Admiralty, towed to Liverpool and converted into a hospital ship. The Mauretania and Aquitania are also being used for hospital service.

KAISER LAUNCHES 95TH ZEPPELIN

Berne, Switzerland, Feb. 9.—There are eighty Zeppelins now in the German service, it appears from information developed at Friedrichshafen, where the Zeppelin works are located. One of the latest type having made a trip this week is the LZ-95, which is taken here to mean that it is the ninety-fifth in the series dating from the beginning of the war, fifteen having been lost, it is said.

KAISER CAN 'HOLD OUT ALWAYS'

By A. F. BEACH,
Staff Correspondent of the International News Service.

Berlin, Feb. 9.—Granting, as the allies claim and as the Germans admit, that the present great struggle is to be a war of exhaustion, the obvious question is, How long can Germany, the defensive nation, "hold out?"

I have put this question to scores of representative Germans, statesmen, bankers, merchants and mechanics, and they all make the same reply—indefinitely.

It is safe to say that there is not a German in all the Fatherland who doubts for one moment that the Vaterland will be able to live and fight as long as there are men to fight that the Vaterland may live.

The situation of condition throughout the empire convinces the neutral observer that economically Germany is well nigh impregnable.

The money situation has never been, and is not now, a matter of worry.

Dr. Karl Helfferich, the Minister of Finance, whose grasp of the country's economic condition, has explained for readers of the NORTH AMERICAN how Germany's greatest economic asset is the very blockade by which Germany's enemies thought to crush her.

"ENDLESS FINANCIAL CIRCLE."

By reason of this blockade Germany, meeting the financial demands of the contest, becomes only her own debtor.

Germany's war loans are taken up by German workers, who have been receiving this money in compensation for their labor. Therefore, says the Finance Minister explains, it becomes a matter of national energy, a question of how long the people will be willing to keep rotating this endless circle of labor exchanged for gold and gold exchanged again for that labor.

The observer looks in vain for any indication that the force of this national energy is now diminishing, or will diminish at any time in the future.

When I visited Berlin eight months ago I detected a sort of religious fervor in the manner in which the German people met their war sacrifices and adapted themselves and their mode of living to the new order of things. Long lines of rich and poor stood impatiently in the streets waiting to exchange their gold for paper money at the Reichsbank.

SACRIFICE NO LONGER SACRIFICE

This state of heart and mind does not changed today. It is the prospect that a national war existence has evolved. A sacrifice is no longer a sacrifice. There is nothing to be sacrificed. The empire exists on a level with its possible future needs.

The enormous laborer contributes his physical energy, the fighting man throws in his life, the rich man bestows the use of military usefulness puts in his fortune—not as a sacrifice, merely because it is the thing to do.

I asked a great Hamburg banker whose fortune has gone into the war loan, what he proposed doing at the end of the war, when he would find himself penniless. He looked at me in blank amazement for a moment and replied, "Why, begin all over course."

I asked a private soldier on the fighting line in France to describe his condition of heart when in his mind he knew his chances of being killed were about one hundred to one. And he said:

"What difference does one make? They may kill me, but they can't kill us."

(At this reply I wondered if it did not contain all and a little bit more of the poetry in Rudyard Kipling's line, "Who dies if England live?")

FALSE REPORT OF REBELLION.

I asked my hotel servant if he wasn't tired of war conditions.

"Yes," he declared, "tired of waiting to be called to the front."

Thus runs the spirit.

Occasionally "highly significant" reports of rebellious acts in Germany are cabled to American and British newspapers by alien correspondents based on the frontiers to catch the gossip of travellers. Often it seems that these reports are taken seriously and pro-British editorials are erected on their claims. Such a report was that of an alleged great mass-meeting of Socialists and malcontents in Unter den Linden, a meeting which became so ominous (according to the report from Switzerland) that it was broken up and the crowd dispersed by the police only after great difficulty.

What really happened was that perhaps thirty men, mostly Socialists, had gathered around a speaker who cut to the point the problems of the universe before the multitudes who wish to listen in such places as Printing House Square in New York.

WAR SUMMARY

The war news today, so far as actual fighting is concerned, was without feature. That the Teutonic allies are preparing an attack on Salonica is indicated in dispatches from more than one source. Skirmishes between border guards have been reported for two days. These would indicate that Teutonic outposts are feeling their way into Greece. The Teutonic concentration of troops and guns in Flanders continues.

The Serbian authorities issued a statement that the "Austro-Hungarian drive against Durazzo has been checked," and recited fighting of February 2 and the days following, as a result of which "the enemy retreated, leaving the battlefield covered with dead." The fighting occurred, Rome says, at "Blaama." The gazetteers do not show this villa, so it is impossible to judge how much of the statement holds water.

A Geneva dispatch says that lack of munitions is hampering the Italian army.

It may be significant that the assertion that lack of munitions is hampering the Italian operations follows so closely on yesterday's announcement that the allies are exerting pressure to induce Italy to take a more active part in the war.

---

There has been violent, but fruitless, fighting in France. The allies, after long artillery preparation, attacked south of the Somme and penetrated one of the trenches recently captured by the Germans. The Germans counter-attacked in the evening and won back the lost ground.

Much the same sort of an incident occurred on the Austro-Russian front at Tarnopol. The Russians penetrated an Austrian position, but were ejected almost immediately.

---

In Mesopotamia all was quiet.

Archduke Charles Stephen, head of the Austrian navy, is in Berlin with his staff, and rumors of a Teutonic offensive by sea are gaining strength.

BRANDEIS HEARING OPENS

1910 and 1912. He told of presenting a four-day statement to the commission on behalf of the shippers during the 1913 case.

"Mr. Brandeis congratulated me in extravagant terms," he said, "and said my statement and should be made public, to give the people an idea of the shippers' side of the case. I told him I had no money with which to publish it. I knew of his intimacy with Senator LaFollette, and I suggested that he get the Senator to have it printed as a public document."

TALKED WITH BRANDEIS.

Thorne told of his return from the West to present his argument against the 5 per cent. advance in railroad rates and of what he termed Brandeis' change of mind. He testified:

"I said to one of Mr. Brandeis' associates: 'What position is Mr. Brandeis going to take in this case?' He replied: 'Would you have to ask Mr. Brandeis, but I believe he thinks that some rates are inadequate and that there should be a general revision of the rates in Central Freight Association territory.'

"I was not vitally concerned in this, but to make sure about Mr. Brandeis' position, I asked him personally what he was going to do. I believe that some of the railroads are not earning enough money."

In the 1913 case, the witness said, Mr. Brandeis made the final argument against the railroads. In this argument, Thorne read from the record showing that Brandeis said:

"But we said, and I will say again, that whatever may be true of the rates, the net income is not sufficient to give that prosperity to the railroads such as the welfare of the people demands."

WITHOUT WARNING.

"This was the very point for which the railroads had contended for four years," said Thorne, "they had bombarded the commission with arguments, they had maintained a nation-wide propaganda, the commission itself had charged them with misleading and deceiving the public and to their surprise—

WITHOUT WARNING,

"Here we were at the close of the great case of 1913-14-15 and the next year. From a financial standpoint this was the most important case ever tried between private parties before any human tribunal since the days of civilization.

"In the closing argument, after every other representative of the public had concluded, the special counsel for the commission, appointed to see that all points of the case were properly presented, without notice and without warning to other counsel, advanced the very point at issue at that time."

Senators Cummins and Walsh endeavored to show that the position taken by Brandeis in no way showed that he had conceded that increased rates were necessary. They developed that Brandeis said that while the "net" of the railroads is not sufficient these "net revenues" should be increased by economizing in railroad administration.

PUZZLE IN FARRAR'S NAME

She is Mrs. Lou Tellegen.

Charles A. Ellis, Boston's only representative at the wedding of Geraldine Farrar, returned home today and announced that his concert and opera star had been married to Lou Tellegen, the matinee idol, and that the report that her name is now "Zahard" or anything else than Tellegen is untrue.

The wedding was simple. Mrs. Tellegen is very happy," said Mr. Ellis.

Tellegen, who has a number of other names, none of which is "Zahard," played in France under the name of Lou-Tellegen. Last month in New York he went before the courts and had this made his legal name without the hyphen, thus his first name is Lou and his surname Tellegen. Hence Mr. and Mrs. Lou Tellegen.

Today in New York the young opera singer and her actor husband began the first day of their honeymoon by continuing their work.

MYSTERY OF NAMES.

The "Zahard" story was started by the actor's valet and butler, who gave out what meagre facts of the wedding the reporters were able to learn.

The valet further vouchsafed the information that the wedding created no such person as Mrs. Zahard.

"It is Mr. and Mrs. Zahard," declared the valet. "The first name? Ah, how can I know? There are one, two, three, four—maybe five, six—names ahead of Zahard. But the personal cards, the what you call visiting cards. They are Mr. and Mrs. Zahard. How do I know? Have I not seen the correspondence between them? And am I not the valet to my master?

"But I am told not to tell you details. Sometime, maybe, you shall hear through the proper channels. What are these proper channels? Ah, I do not know. I say proper channels because I must say something."

This morning they went to the Comedy Theatre, where the actor is rehearsing "The King of Nowhere," which opens in Albany Friday night. Mrs. Tellegen, who is to return to the Metropolitan Opera House in "Tosca" Monday night, will accompany her husband, attending rehearsing tonight.

The couple are today attended strictly to business, and there will be no honeymoon until next April. Mr. and Mrs. Tellegen will then combine business with pleasure by taking part in a romantic film drama in California.

GIVEN AWAY BY FATHER.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Leon A. Harvey, secretary of the Unitarian Denominational Headquarters. Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Farrar, parents of the bride, were among the few guests present. Mr. Farrar, though still very ill, was able to give his daughter away in marriage.

The wedding took place in the library. The library was a "bower of roses and orchids," according to the bride-shocked valet.

There were presents and cards and telegrams from several hundred persons—singers, actors, and members of the professions and common folks who just admire.

Others present besides Mr. and Mrs. Farrar, father and mother of the opera star, were Mr. and Mrs. Clafin Childs and Charles A. Ellis, manager of the Boston Symphony Orchestra and concert manager for the singer.

The nearest thing to a duke at the nuptials was the little page-boy dressed in white, who hung on the outskirts of it all with the other servants of the household.

WORE NO WEDDING GOWN.

Miss Farrar wore no special wedding gown. Some reporters said it was white, and it was a good deal so, as any, only it was heliotrope in color, and Miss Farrar thinks there was far trimming on it.

She also wore a black hat, "not too large or too small," said the clergyman. "But a very pretty hat."

She carried a huge bouquet of American beauty roses.

Lou Tellegen, a foot taller, was faultlessly attired in a dark cutaway.

When all was ready the Unitarian marriage ceremony was read. A few minutes later Geraldine Farrar, the same care-free girl who only a short time ago openly declared that "never" would she promise to love any man "forever," that no man attracted her attention longer than fifteen minutes, that marriage and an artistic career could not possibly jibe, had become a bride.

"Oh, it's a love match, I know," said the Rev. Mr. Harvey after the ceremony.

When the newspaper men out in the street voted a revolution and made for the house, "Francois," the butler, ushered them through the kitchen.

"Yes, they got married."

NUPTIALS ARE FILMED.

"Where," asked someone.

"In the parlor," came the answer. "They going anywhere?" was next asked.

"Oh, no, they are going to stay in."

The strains of music came from below, and the reporters knew that it was a phonograph playing a merry operatic piece.

"What did she wear?"

"I don't know; there was just Mr. and Mrs. Farrar and two witnesses present."

"Is this official?"

"What?" came the answer.

"Will Mrs. Farrar give out any statement later?"

"I'm the only one," grinned "Francois," and disappeared.

A wedding breakfast was held just previous to the ceremony. The movie picture concern for which Miss Farrar has recently appeared, ground out a reel or two of the wedding.

COCHRANE MUST PAY MODISTE

A well-known society matron and her daughter, a debutante of 1917, figure in a remarkable domestic baffled down today by Chief Justice Aiken of the Superior Court, ending a suit against J. Eugene Cochrane, Boston clubman, Dedham manufacturer and former polo player, for "coming out" gowns for his daughter. Miss Eugenie Cochrane, a prominent member of the younger social set.

The suit was tried last Fall in the Suffolk Superior Court. It was brought by Eva A. Aeringer of Somerville and Mary Doherty of Boston, who conduct a dressmaking establishment on Boylston street.

They sued to recover nearly $2,000 for clothing made for Miss Cochrane, and in the finding of Judge Aiken both Mrs. Cochrane, the mother, and Miss Cochrane, the daughter, are frequently mentioned, Judge Aiken saying of them specifically that both mother and daughter were "fond of dress."

The judge recounts the mother's social ambitions for her daughter on the occasion of Miss Eugenie's coming out party—ambitions which led her to have the dresses made at the Boylston street modiste establishment.

The judge concludes by saying that Cochrane does not have to pay $640.55 of the bill, but that he must pay $1,315.44 to the plaintiffs.

Chief Justice Aiken says in his finding:

"The work sued on was done for the daughter, Eugenie. The defendant (Cochrane) is treasurer of the Cochrane Manufacturing Company of Dedham, and has there a $5,000 a year salary and no other income of any amount. His family consists of a wife, a daughter and two sons. They live in a Dedham house of sixteen acres of grounds. The family's social position is such that the mother and daughter participate in the social activities of thetown.

"The defendant has been a polo player and the owner of polo ponies and horses, and about 1911 had ceased playing polo, and the horse and a pony had become aged into family horses and were no more. The defendant also owned an auto.

"In an action of tort he had a farm, but there were no indications it was a source of profit.

"The daughter had been sent to private schools in Boston and to an exclusive and fashionable institution on the Hudson. The mother and daughter were fond of dress. The defendant thought in other respects their modes of life were moderate and becoming.

"The daughter came out, when the dressmaking sued on was done, was eighteen years old, and the mother, socially ambitious for the daughter, wished to have what is known as a 'coming out.'

"To that end she took her to the plaintiff's dressmaking establishment on Boylston street. The mother stated to the plaintiff her daughter was eighteen and that she wanted her suitably fitted out in clothing for ordinary street wear, and that her father was J. E. Cochrane of the Cochrane Manufacturing Company of Dedham. The mother was aware from previous experiences with dressmaking bills that her husband would object to paying for the work."

TWO DEFENCE BILLS PASSED BY SENATE

Washington, Feb. 9.—The first two defence bills, one appropriating $800,000 for additional building ways on the Mare Island Navy Yard, and $100,00 for a similar purpose at the Brooklyn Navy Yard and the other increasing the number of midshipmen at Annapolis were passed by the Senate this afternoon without objection. As both bills have passed the House they will go to the President for his signature.

Two examples of the new "conversation stocks," the Palm Beach fad which has spread to the North.

New York, Feb. 9.—They call them "conversation stockings."

Some of them might be called with perfect propriety "uproar hosiery."

They are designed to start a system of ballroom semaphore signals. They are also especially calculated to start a long line of gay gentlemen on the road to those anti-alcoholic resorts where bichloride of gold is used to banish a taste for strong drink.

The swagger hosiery shops of Fifth avenue have already begun to display the styles, which come to us by way of Palm Beach. At the resort where sixteen acres of grounds. The family's social position is such that the mother and daughter participate in the social activities of thetown.

Low-Voiced Man Is Set Free on Assault Charge

Stanley Zifosky of the West Side was in Municipal Court today charged with assault and battery on Mrs. Emma Damitsky of Billerica street, Witnesses testified that Zifosky, who weighs nearly 200, hugged and kissed Mrs. Damitsky, bruising her back and causing her much pain.

The defendant testified in low voice. Judge Wentworth asked him to speak louder.

"But that's one of the exhibits in this case, your honor. The defendant is a mild, soft spoken—not at all like the violent, loud spoken person the government would like to have us believe," replied his counsel.

Zifosky was discharged.

FIN. COM. AGAIN HITS TYLOSE

Dr. Arthur J. White, superintendent of the Boston Consumptives' Hospital, Mattapan, was flayed today by the Finance Commission, in a report sent to Mayor Curley, for permitting the use of Tylose in the group of buildings over which he has charge.

Money appropriated for the use of unfortunates afflicted with pulmonary tuberculosis has been diverted to the purchase of a food preservative, the report proceeds, without the superintendent as to its qualities and price," says the report.

The absolute confidence placed by the superintendent in the selling agents of the preservative company shows a credulity approaching that displayed by the superintendent of the Public Buildings Department, when purchasing the same Tylose preservative, as set forth in the report of the Finance Commission of January 28.

The attack on Dr. White formed the third chapter of a serial which the Finance Commission is writing on Tylose, the magic liquid used to massage floors. It reached City Hall two days after the departure of Mayor and Mrs. Curley for Cuba. No action will be taken on it by Acting Mayor Henry E. Hagan, president of the new City Council.

CRITICISES DOCTOR.

The Finance Commission termed it its "third report" on Tylose and complained that disclosures warranted legislative action. The report said Dr. White had indorsed Tylose, for depending on the hospital engineer, and for permitting one-fifth of the floor area of the institution to be oiled as a test.

The report says that Dr. White called at the Milk street office of the Tylose Contracting Company "after several pleasant talks with representatives" for a demonstration of samples on concrete, lasting an hour, and talked later with the hospital engineer, who told him Dr. Cox, his predecessor, had tested many floor preservatives without success.

The report says Dr. White testified that he consulted Dr. Richard, one of the trustees, who said: "If you think it is a good thing, try it out." But Dr. White, in commenting on the report, testified that he recalled that he advised Dr. White to try Tylose, and did not mean to imply a large purchase was to be made, but that a small report should be tried as an experiment.

"ORDER WAS ORAL."

Taking advantage of this assumed permission of Dr. Minot, one of the trustees, Dr. White, it is charged, requesting a free demonstration of the material for a stated period, without further consultation with the board of trustees, the superintendent placed an order for the preservative, committing the Consumptives' Hospital Department to an expenditure of $382.30, which was later corrected to $382.30 on account of an arithmetical error in the large expenditure, which covered the application of Tylose to approximately one-fifth of the floor area of the hospital, constituted Dr. White's idea of a trial.

Dr. White testified that the order was oral, never reduced to writing and given without public competitive inquiry as to price.

The report closes:

"It shows that a third department was found unbusinesslike in its methods. It also shows that a large expenditure spent, without careful consideration, money intended for the sick poor, other than that for the welfare of such unfortunate people."

OIL BARGE GOES ASHORE IN STORM

New London, Ct., Feb. 9.—Standard Oil Company barge No. 62, eastbound with a captain and crew of seven men on board and loaded with several thousand gallons of gasoline, went ashore one-half mile west of Bartlett's Reef lightship early today during the thick snow storm. She is high and dry, apparently, on the reef, and an attempt will be made to float her at high tide this afternoon.

VOTE TO RATIFY HAITIEN TREATY

Washington, Feb. 9.—The Senate foreign relations committee voted unanimously to favorably report ratification of the treaty establishing a protectorate over the republic of Haiti. The treaty, if ratified by the Senate, will put the United States in charge of Haiti's financial affairs in much the same manner that this country now supervises the finances in Santo Domingo.

RICHARDS' SUIT ON B. A. A. MARCH 13

Summonses have been issued for the second trial of the suit of Dr. Russell A. Richards for $50,000 each against the members of the governing board of the Boston Athletic Association for, as he claims, illegally expelling him from the club. The trial will begin at Plymouth, March 13. There was a mistrial of the first case.

GIRL A VENUS

Wellesley College girls, according to the measurements taken in the Mary Hemenway gymnasium, press Venus pretty hard for honors as the most perfectly formed young women of any American college.

The figures for the lower half of the body, the hips and legs, averaged from the measurements of over 1,500 Wellesley girls, are almost exactly those of Venus.

Above the waist the college girls certainly have not so large. The Wellesley girl is 1.7 inches shorter. Her form shapes gracefully down from a full chest to an ankle which is one-tenth of an inch smaller than those of Venus.

The graceful neck of the composite Wellesley girl is but three-tenths of an inch smaller than the beautiful neck of Venus. The neck of the Wellesley girl measures 12.2 inches around, while records show that Venus' neck was 12.5 inches.

When it comes to the measurement of the waist the average Wellesley girl has something on the Venus of fame. But a half inch separates the figures of both waists, but the Wellesley girl's measure is directed to be nearer perfect than the measurement of Venus. The Wellesley girl's waist is 24.6 inches; Venus had a waist of 25.1 inches.

The hips of the college girl compare with those of Venus, and the lower thighs from the thigh to the calf show exactly the same measurements. Both have thighs that measure 21½ inches and calves that tape 14½ inches. From the calf to the ankle the leg of Venus shapes itself less gracefully than the Wellesley girl's. Venus' measurements fall away to 8.2 inches at the ankle, while the Wellesley girl has an ankle one-tenth of an inch smaller.

WINE-COLORED COATS FOR THE MEN

St. Louis, Feb. 9.—Single-breasted, two-button sack coats, with drapery over the hips, is the proper style for men's wear this Spring, according to styles exhibited at the convention of the National Association of Merchant Tailors, in session here.

Double-breasted coats are to have peak lapels, and both single and double-breasted will follow natural lines. Extreme styles will be avoided.

Scotch plaid is to be a popular pattern, judging from the designs.

An extreme model in evening dress exhibited by one designer who showed a wine-colored coat. With the coat goes a lavender waistcoat. Tuxedo coats are to be worn in the black, running over the shoulder.

Summer clothing, designs of seersucker coats weighing eight ounces to the skein, will be the favored coat with white buttons.

Sleeves this Spring and Summer are to be small with a plain cut at the cuff. Trousers will follow the conformation of the leg, but will not be tight.

Frock coats of green cloth with a wide red stripe are displayed. Patterns of large checks are prominent in the display, and green is a prominent color.

A novelty is an overcoat weighing one pound—said to be both rain and cold proof.

Of the many designs on exhibition not a single one has a cape. The one-pound overcoat costs $125.

CHANGE FOR BETTER IN WHEAT MARKET

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—There was a partial change for the better in conditions surrounding the wheat market as compared with those of Monday. Many of those who were heavy sellers on the break in May wheat Monday covered their deals and bought that month in goodly amounts. Because of the strength of the offerings, prices advanced 2 to 2½ cents.

YOUTHS HELD ON ROBBERY CHARGE

In the Municipal Court today three South End youths, Arthur McCarthy, Joseph King and Robert Clougher, were charged with robbing Mitchell Chapman, a negro, of Washington street, near Pleasant, of a watch and $6.50. They were captured by a policeman after a chase. The court held them for a hearing in $2,000 each.

WEARS A COSTUME MADE OF AMERICAN

The Carpathia girls held a masquerade at the Parker House on Mattapan, several of the girls wearing "newspaper disguises." One young woman wore a costume made out of copies of the AMERICAN. The affair was in charge of Ray Simonds and Anna S. Curran.

HAS FRIEND HELD AS A SUIT THIEF

Ralph Jeffries, formerly of the South End was in the police court today on complaint of Emmanuel Williams, a friend, whose dress suit the latter found in a pawn shop. Jeffries was held for a hearing next Thursday.

MRS. RAYMOND WINTHROP BOWDOIN,

actress wife of wealthy New York youth, who is being sued for divorce.

©INTERNATIONAL FILM SERVICE.

New York, Feb. 9.—"I did like Bud, although he was the most gifted liar I ever met," declared Mrs. Raymond Winthrop Bowdoin, a member of the chorus of "Around the Map," who is being sued for divorce by her husband. The latter is the son of James Sullivan Bowdoin, a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co.

"I accepted a dare when I married my husband," continued Mrs. Bowdoin. "We left at eleven at night. Scott Minrath dared me to go. Well, I went. There was a string of six or eight taxi cabs. The wedding cost the boys about $150 all told.

"That night there was at least twenty fellows in the party. I was the only girl. Scott Minrath, Bud's chum, suggested that Bud and I get married. Others said they would marry me if Bud didn't.

"It was getting a bit embarrassing. I was ready to leave the place. But they laughed and I became good humored again.

"I had the slightest idea who Raymond was. That is, I didn't know he had a seat outside of his salary. I did like him. I was then on the stage. I was a model for a number of well-known artists."

Bowdoin, who is now in Nevada, alleges desertion.

MAGENIS MAY STAY ON THE FIN. COM.

Governor McCall said today he was informed that Attorney James P. Magenis was ready to withdraw his resignation as a member of the Boston Finance Commission.

The resignation is nearly two years old, but has never been accepted.

Mr. Magenis resigned about the time he became the Progressive candidate for lieutenant-governor in 1912.

David I. Walsh, then Governor, put the resignation on the table, where it nearly always remains, while Magenis, defeated for Lieutenant-Governor, resumed his place on the commission. His term expires in 1918.

Governor McCall said he would look into the matter.

WANT MORE SALARY? SEE THE GOVERNOR

Any State employe drawing $1,000 or more, who wants a salary raise will have to see the Governor and Council.

Governor McCall today signed a bill which takes away from department heads the right to make salary increases.

The bill went through the House and Senate without a rollcall, although Senator McLaughlin of Boston protested that the Governor of Massachusetts is too busy a man to have his time taken up by questions of small salary increases.

Auto "Dazzler" Guilty.

Henry B. Titus of the Back Bay, in the Brighton Court today, was found guilty of violating the "dazzling light" auto law. The case was filed.

TO HANG COMERY IN YARD

Concord, N. H., Feb. 9.—When Oscar J. Comery is executed by hanging on Friday, 18 for the murder of his wife, it is probable that the gallows will be erected in the jail yard and not in the corridors of the prison, as was at first planned.

This decision has been reached by Sheriff Stearns and Warden Rowe on the theory that it is unfair to force the prisoners to witness or hear the execution.

The "Wetherfield plan," by which a heavy weight, dropping from a height, catches the condemned man into the air at the end of a rope, will be used, as told exclusively in last Sunday's AMERICAN.

Comery today had a visit from his attorneys, L. Ashton Thorp and Oscar F. Morrel. They told him they had exhausted every resource to save him without success.

He remained calm, and the prison officials say that he eats heartily and sleeps as well as any man in prison.

The prisoners are showing signs of unrest. Warden Rowe said today. There is a feeling among them that Comery does not deserve his fate.

Comery is now in the death wing of the prison, under a "death watch" of three guards. He gets exercise in the corridors. There are other prisoners in that section of the prison.

He rises at 6, breakfasts at 6:30, has dinner at 12 and supper at 5. He has practically anything he wants to eat.

Representative Levin Chase of Concord said today that he and a number of his friends will go away from the city on the day of the execution as a protest against the continuance of capital punishment.

Representative Chase has led the fight to abolish hanging.

POLI THEATRE FIRE AT SPRINGFIELD

Springfield, Feb. 9.—Poli's Palace Theatre had a narrow escape from destruction by fire, which started this afternoon in the attic of the theatre used as a storeroom. The firemen extinguished the blaze before much damage was done. The water supply to the automatic sprinklers was found to have been shut off and several moving picture films were found in the store room with metallic cases as required by law. These matters are being investigated.

AN APPEAL.

I'm only a cripple, you see,
And I try every day as best as I can—
But I'm getting so tired
Of the blows and the kicks—
They've nothing but me and my master.
And though we are poor
I'm trying this message to tell
To kind folks who look for the Red Cross—
Oh, please help the Blue one as well.

My master was one in a thousand,
And I found him with a thin poor heart
(For horses are built just like humans,
Though some people don't do their parts).
So please send out help for our wounded,
And give up a word to your prayers.
This isn't so strange as you'd fancy—
The Blue Cross is for Horses.

I'm only a cavalry charger,
And my eyes are becoming quite dim
(I used to stand proud though I say so for'e,
So long as I'm going to HIM).
But I'm not asking food for my comrades,
Where dying and suffering, too—
Oh, please help the Blue Cross hospitals
I'm sure that you would—if you knew.

KAISER'S OFFER ON LUSITANIA ACCEPTED

By International News Service.

Washington, Feb. 9.—The United States and Germany have arrived at a settlement of the Lusitania case, nine months to the day from the sinking of the vessel off the Irish coast with the loss of 114 American lives.

All that remains is for Germany to decide whether her proposals shall be submitted in a note from the Berlin Foreign Office or whether Count Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, shall sign the memorandum submitted to the State Department on Friday. Count von Bernstorff has sent a wireless to Berlin to arrange this detail.

President Wilson gave his approval to the German proposals at an hour's conference with Secretary Lansing before the Cabinet meeting. Later the Cabinet approved his course.

END NEGOTIATIONS.

The German Ambassador was then notified of the administration's decision. He went to the State Department for a twenty-five-minute interview with Secretary Lansing. At this conference it was arranged that Germany's proposals shall be submitted in a formal communication, which will bring the long negotiations to an end.

The German government's proposals are accepted as fully meeting the demands of the United States for the disavowal of the Lusitania attack, reparation for American lives lost, and pledges of future conduct.

On the other hand, the German government gives its disavowal without making the express admission that the act of its submarine commander in sinking the Lusitania was a reprisal was illegal.

It is possible to state on the highest authority that the terms of the settlement reached by the United States and Germany are:

CONDITIONAL ADMISSIONS.

1—Germany admits that acts of retaliation are wrong when they affect neutrals. Applied to the Lusitania case this is an admission by Germany that the sinking of the Lusitania was not justified. It is accepted by the United States as an admission of illegality, as this government holds reprisals illegal.

2—An offer is made to pay full indemnity for the Lusitania dead, not as an act of grace, but as an obligation.

3—Germany repeats her pledge that unarmed merchantmen will not be sunk without warning and without providing for safety of passengers and crews, provided they do not try to escape or offer resistance, making a recurrence of a tragedy such as the Lusitania sinking impossible.

4—An expression of deepest regret is made for the loss of American lives on the Lusitania.

5—Attention is called to the fact that, out of deference for the friendship of the United States, and to meet the wishes of this government, Germany practically has given up submarine warfare.

REPARATION DEMAND.

6—Germany accepts the invitation extended in the note of July 21 to co-operate with the United States in achieving freedom of the seas and is ready to act at any time in this direction.

The whole disagreement between the United States and Germany since the settlement of the Arabic case October 9 last, has been over the first of these demands, that of disavowal.

Summed up in one sentence the demand of the United States was that Germany should "disavow the wanton act of the naval commander in sinking the Lusitania," and "offer reparation for the American lives lost, so far as reparation can be made for a needless destruction of human life by an inhuman act."

Germany from the first held it could not specifically disavow the act because she had ordered submarine commanders to sink enemy vessels in the war zone as a reprisal against what she considered an illegal act of the enemy in establishing a food blockade. In other words, the German government could not disavow an act which had been authorized.

CONTROVERSY PROLONGED.

This brought up the question of the legality or illegality of retaliation against an illegal act of an enemy and for five months the controversy has waged over this point. Germany in the meanwhile had settled the question of reparation and had given pledge of future conduct in submarine operations.

The United States government stated its position in the note of July 21 when it said:

Illegal and inhuman acts, however justifiable they may be thought to be against an enemy who is believed to have acted in contravention of law and humanity, are manifestly indefensible when they deprive neutrals of their acknowledged rights, particularly when they violate the right of life itself. If a belligerent cannot retaliate against an enemy without injuring the lives of neutrals, as well as their property, humanity, as well as justice and a due regard for the dignity of neutral powers, should dictate that the practice be discontinued.

600,000 Additional Germans in West

By SYDNEY B. CAVE,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

London, Feb. 9.—Concentration of German reinforcements and guns in West Flanders is going forward without pause, A Central News dispatch estimates that 600,000 German troops have already been sent into West Flanders and France to reinforce the northern end of the German battle front.

The Germans now have at least three of their new forty-two-mile range guns on the west front. This is shown by the official announcement by the French War office that shells were thrown into Belfort. Previously the Germans had bombarded Dunkirk and Verdun with similar pieces.

The Athens correspondent of the Daily Mail telegraphs that the allies are feverishly preparing to meet any offensive of the Germans allied in Greece. In fact, the allies may make the first move in the new Balkan campaign.

FRENCH LOSE 800 YARDS OF TRENCHES

By International News Service.

Berlin, Feb. 9.—German troops have captured by storm all the first line French trenches over a front of two yards long in the region immediately west of Vimy, it was officially announced today by the War Office.

It is admitted that the French succeeded in penetrating a position which had been captured from the French south of the sunken road.

Another French position has been destroyed at Priestwald (Bois le Pretre).

Following is the German official report:

"West front—West of Vimy we took by storm the first line of French positions over a front of two yards. Five hundred prisoners and five machine guns were captured.

"South of the Somme River, the French, during a night attack, were able to reoccupate a small dermah trench untaken.

"At the Bois Le Pretre (Priestwald) an enemy aeroplane was set on fire and shot to earth. The two occupants were killed."

(Vimy is in Artois four miles south of Lens and five miles northeast of Arras.)

Struggle in Artois Still Violent.

By CHARLES F. BERTELLI,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Paris, Feb. 9.—The gigantic struggle between the allies and Germans in Artois is continuing night and day, with both infantry and artillery employed. The struggle is particularly severe immediately north of Arras and west of Neuville St. Vaast.

The French War office, in an official communique today, admitted that the Germans were able to penetrate some of the positions of the French, but were later driven back to their own lines. Following is the text of the communique:

"In Artois there is great artillery activity on both sides, especially on the front from Hill No. 140 to the Neuville St. Vaast road and in the region of La Folie.

"Late in the afternoon on Tuesday the Germans exploded two mines which were very heavily charged with explosives.

"To the west of La Folie the enemy succeeded in penetrating some of our trenches, but we afterwards regained the lost ground by means of counter-attacks, in which hand grenades were used. Fighting continued all night.

"South of the Somme River we have bombarded the German trenches.

"In the Vosges an artillery duel developed in the region of Hartmannis Weilerkopf."

BRITISH SEIZE MAIL ON DUTCH STEAMER

Britain Can't Destroy Germans at Present Rate, Says Repington

By COLONEL REPINGTON
Military Expert of the London Times.

London, Feb. 9.

GERMANY has today in the field armies 3,600,000 strong. She has suffered 2,700,000 casualties, and has 2,000,000 reserves still available for field service.

The strength of these armies will not begin to fall until the supply is exhausted. If the Germans lose 250,000 men a month they will exhaust their power of reinforcement by September next. If the rate of loss is 150,000 a month then the field armies can go on till February, 1917.

Finally, if we dispose of no more Germans per month than we did during the month just elapsed, namely 36,000, there is no particular reason why we should set any particular term upon the war.

If we insist upon fighting Turks, Bulgars and whatnot instead of Germans, we make a great mistake. We have only one enemy that counts and whose fall will bring his confederates down with him.

BRIAND TO ASK ITALY TO WAR ON KAISER

By International News Service.

Paris, Feb. 9.—Following the departure of Premier Briand for Rome today a sensational report became current that the French minister will urge the Italian government to declare war against Germany. It is known that three objects of M. Briand's trip to the Italian capital are:

1—To further bring into closer unity the relations between Italy and the allies.

2—To discuss the financial and economic situation in Italy.

3—To confer on that part that Italy is going to play in the Balkan campaign when it opens.

It was announced that Albert Thomas, Minister of Munitions; General Dumesnil, an adviser of the Ministry of Munitions, and Leon Bourgeois, minister without a portfolio in the French cabinet, would also go to Rome.

TEUTON DRIVE ON DURAZZO CHECKED

Rome, Feb. 9.—The Austro-Hungarian drive against Durazzo has been checked, it was officially announced by the Serbian military authorities. The following statement was given out:

"The Austro-Hungarians after occupying Alessio, Albania, continued to advance toward Durazzo. On February 2 violent fighting occurred at Biasma, the enemy forcing us back. Upon being reinforced we delivered fight attacks, recapturing all the ground we had lost. The enemy retreated, leaving the battlefield covered with dead. We took 200 Hungarian prisoners."

APPAM'S CAPTOR THOUGHT TO BE ON THIS SIDE

By International News Service.

New York, Feb. 9.—Did the German sea raider which captured the Appam and sank half a dozen other British ships at sea follow the Appam across the Atlantic to American waters?

Strictly censored cablegrams from London declaring that a large passenger steamer has met with a terrible accident in the North Atlantic and implying that other liners have been captured or sunk in the North Atlantic steamship lanes by German commerce raiders are borne out by a statement of W. D. Everth, second officer on board the ship Author, one of the vessels sunk by the Moewe before the Appam was made a prize.

"In my opinion the Moewe is now lurking in or near the Gulf of Mexico, and will be heard from again soon, unless caught by British cruisers," declared Everth. "The German wireless operator of the Appam talked with the Moewe every night on the voyage from the Canary Islands to Norfolk. I figure that the Moewe was less that fifty miles away when the Appam put into Norfolk.

"The captain and officers of the Moewe are good seamen, but the crew isn't much. They became badly rattled in the fight with the Clan McNaughton and fired wildly."

No word has yet been received of the British steamship Orissa, which is now nine days overdue at Liverpool, and fears that she was captured by the German raider are becoming stronger daily.

The Orissa may be the "large passenger steamer" which the censored cables refer to as having met with an accident in the North Atlantic. She is a twin screw mail and passenger liner of 5,568 tons, owned by the Pacific Steam Navigation Company. She sailed from Antofagasta, Chile, for Liverpool by way of Montevideo and Rio de Janeiro. No word has been received from the ship by wireless since she left Rio Janeiro January 15. She carried a cargo of copper and nitrates and was valued at $1,000,000.

Private advices received by the war risk underwriters in New York report the sinking of a number of British steamers plying between South America and England. These reports have not been officially confirmed.

FRENCH AVIATION HEAD FORCED OUT

Paris, Feb. 9.—Rene Besnard, Undersecretary of State for Aviation and Aeronautics, has resigned. For some time there has been hostility toward M. Besnard for his conduct of the office of Under-Secretary for Aviation and Aeronautics. The campaign against him was conducted by certain newspapers, which charged he was incapable.

NEW WITNESSES IN MOHR CASE CLAIMED

the murdered doctor by the executors, Messrs. Hurley and Cushing.

The "Black Book," said to be a daily record of the accounts of Dr. Mohr, showed, according to the executors, that Dr. Mohr earned in eight months before his death $23,432, in addition to many weeks in this period he treated but two patients.

This account book, originally presented to Dr. Mohr by his son, Charles, whose testimony in his mother's behalf is credited with having secured her freedom, bears on its inside front cover, the inscription, "Nov. 9, 1914. To my Father, from Charles."

The entries in this book show that for the month of August, at the end of which he was murdered, Dr. Mohr earned $3,78?. The monthly average reached nearly $4,000. This cash record, in the keeping of Mrs. Mohr's attorneys, it was learned today, would eventually be made public in the probate proceedings.

Mrs. Mohr, who recovered sufficiently from her attack of neuritis to be her attorney's office to confer with him about the settlement of the Mohr estate, prepared today for her trip to McKeesport, Pa., with Dr. Mohr's brother and sister, who defender her with their testimony.

No intimation reached Mrs. Mohr or her attorneys if the plans of the Attorney-General in not to the indictment of murderous assault which is still hanging over Mrs. Mohr. An effort was made to learn Mr. Rice's intentions in order to permit Mrs. Mohr to temporarily leave the State of Rhode Island, on her visit with the doctor's relatives. Her attorneys were not successful, although they were assured that no obstacles would be placed in the way of the contemplated visit by the Attorney-General's office.

Czech Desertion Vexes Austrians, Is Word to Paris

By International News Service.

Paris, Feb. 9.—A dispatch to the Journal des Debats from Geneva states that at the recent session of the Budapest Parliament M. Urmanczy, a Magyar Deputy, declared that drastic action ought to be taken to end the criminal treachery and desertion among the Czech soldiers, the majority of whom, he said, are bitter opponents of Austrian imperialism.

The Parliament seethed with rage at M. Urmanczy told how the Czech officers, recently imprisoned at Nish, feted the slightest Serbian successes and drank toasts to Russia's victory and the health of the Czar.

The Austrian censor refused to allow the papers to print a word of the story, but it is generally known in Austria, where much uneasiness has been created, concludes the Journal's dispatch.

BELGIAN KING REJECTS TERMS OF PEACE

Rome, Feb. 9.—Acting through the Vatican, the Kaiser has made offer of a separate peace to Belgium, says the Giornale d'Italia, but it was rejected by King Albert. The agent of the Vatican was Mgr. Tacci, papal nuncio at Brussels.

The terms offered by Germany were: 1, restoration of Belgian sovereignty; 2, recognition of Albert as the lawful monarch; 3, payment of an indemnity, the amount to be fixed later; 4, establishment of a commercial treaty giving Belgium rights not enjoyed before the war; 5, Ostend and Antwerp to be transformed into German ports.

You can't "spell-bind" many men into liking what they dislike —every man's taste is his own

IF A MANUFACTURER in his advertising tells you (truthfully, as he believes) that he has the "best tasting cigarette in the world" and you believe him, you probably try his cigarette. It may be a very good cigarette. But his over-enthusiasm has led you to expect something almost impossible. You light that cigarette and—

Well, there's a good chance that you're disappointed. It may not be the fault of the cigarette. The cigarette may be mighty good. But you've been led to expect too much. You've been "over-sold."

And besides, tastes differ—who can tell what cigarette will best please your taste before you try it?

That's why we leave the taste of Fatimas entirely up to you. We believe you will like them; but you may not.

To be sure, most men like the taste of Fatimas better than any other cigarette they ever smoked. Figures indicate that. More Fatimas are sold than any other cigarette in the world costing over 5c.

But the taste isn't all.

If you do like Fatimas' taste as well as these thousands and thousands of other men do, you'll find a second reason for sticking to them for good. And that reason is that Fatimas will give you cigarette-comfort at all times. This is why they have won the name of being as SENSIBLE a cigarette as a man can find anywhere.

They are comfortable to the throat and tongue. You'll never experience any "sandpaper tickle" or "hotness" in the cool-smoking Turkish blend of Fatimas.

And Fatimas can be smoked more freely than any other cigarette we know of without leaving any mean after-feeling, as some less skilfully blended cigarettes do.

If you have never smoked Fatimas—you should try them.

No foundation for ... any that within I pass unchallenged and unhampered.

TWO TESTS FOR ANY CIGARETTE

The taste of the cigarette—according to a leading tobacco journal—is up to the smoker. But there are other qualities in a cigarette that you should look for in the cigarette that you are going to stick to for your steady smoke. Here are a couple of tests that may help the average smoker to choose some worth while cigarette from the different kinds of cigarettes.

The first test is for coolness, which means more comfort to the throat and tongue. Light any cigarette. Draw in a cloud of smoke—a small, ordinary puff is not sufficient to make this test. Hold it in your mouth for a few seconds. Let it "heat" around against your tongue and throat. Now blow out the smoke.

If the cigarette contains a high grade of mild tobacco leaves, combined in just the right proportion, it will always feel COOL and smooth both to your throat and to your tongue.

On the other hand, if the proportions are not right and if the cigarette contains inferior grades of tobacco or bidding strands of rank, oily leaves, you will feel a nipping sting at the tip of your tongue or that "sandpaper" tickle in your throat.

Test number two: How do you feel after smoking all day?

If the tobaccos in the cigarette include a certain proportion of mild grades—and if all of the various grades have been properly "processed by age"—and if they have been so blended as to bring out the best qualities and to neutralize any unpleasant qualities in each of the different types of tobacco, you will be able to smoke practically whenever you feel like it through the day without feeling any effect from it.

But with another cigarette in which the blend is less skillful, even though the tobaccos are of the highest grade, you will find along towards the end of the day that you are likely to have the feeling of having smoked too much.

Clip out these tests and try them on Fatima

This Is a Furniture Sale of Remarkable Features

Consider These Points Deeply:

I. Because of the increasing success of our semi-annual furniture sales we have, in expectation of further increases, prepared to make this sale the biggest of them all. We have purchased thousands of dollars' worth more goods than for any previous February Furniture Sale and have taken tremendous markdowns on our own stock.

II. The furniture offered in this sale is all from the best representative factories in the country—the highest grade possible for the price.

III. The savings are considerable, for we realize that we must make the deepest possible price cuts in order to be sure the volume will exceed last year's corresponding sale—and even our usual large savings are outdistanced, this in spite of recent price advances by manufacturers.

IV. The pieces quoted in this announcement give but the most meagre idea of the great scope of this sale. Practically all kinds of furniture in the medium and better grades are included—particular attention being paid to choosing pieces that can be easily matched.

V. Goods purchased during this sale may be held for future delivery if desired.

VI. Free delivery of goods included in this sale anywhere in New England.

Pretty Artists' Model Bride Today in Romance of Boston Art Studio

Mrs. Granger F. Doanne (Miss Blanche M. Egan of East Lexington), artists' model, married today in Lexington church.

As art studio romance in a Boston studio, that began more than a year ago, culminated today in the marriage of Miss Blanche Murielle Egan, an artists' model, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert John Egan of Cliffe avenue, East Lexington, and Granger F. Doanne of Boston and formerly of Brooklyn, N. Y., son of the late Augustus and Sidney Doanne. They were married in St. Bridget's Church, Lexington. A nuptial mass was celebrated, Monsignor Edward F. Harley, the pastor, officiating.

The bride, who was given away by her mother, was attended by Miss Mary Anderson of Cambridge as maid of honor. The best man was John Sullivan of Boston. The bride's gown was white net over satin. She wore a veil caught up with lilies of the valley, and carried a bouquet of white roses. The maid of honor's dress was pink satin, and she carried pink roses.

A reception at the bride's home followed, where breakfast was served. Later the couple left on an extended wedding tour through the South and West.

Mrs. Doanne has been in much demand as a model. Many of the paintings bearing her likeness are to be seen all over the country. Among the paint artists for whom she has posed are Alex Pwiffistoffe and Leon Baskt.

Mr. Doanne, who is much interested in art and music, saw a painting of his bride-to-be out West about two years ago, and at that time expressed the desire to meet this young woman in real life. When in Boston a year ago, he went to a studio to purchase some portraits, and happened then to see the same Titian-haired young lady. An introduction follow—Mr. Doanne is an electrical engineer.

HAMMOND TORPEDO IN DEFENCE BILL

Washington, Feb. 9.—Appropriation of nearly a million dollars for the construction of the radio controlled torpedoes for coast defence has been incorporated in the fortifications bill, which is now nearly completed. There is no recommendation that it be adopted by ships as yet, although this will follow. The new engine of destruction is the work of John Hays Hammond, Jr.

MOTOR NOTES

By J. C. KERRISON.

The Daniels car has reached the salesrooms of the J. W. Bowman Company. It is an excellent creation, the product of master builders, and gives every indication of being what it is claimed to be, the car of the year. It is finished in light blue, with a particularly attractive upholstery.

It is believed that the total number of automobile shipments for the month of January just closed will be almost double the corresponding figures of January, 1915. During the first three weeks of last month 12,000 carloads of automobiles were shipped from the factories, whereas last year the total for the month was 8,300.

Harry N. Pyke, who for two years has represented the Chalmers car in this city, has joined the forces of the Carl H. Page Motor Company, of New York. Previous to coming to Boston, Mr. Pyke was identified with Mr. Page in New York.

Harry Woodick of the Woodworth-Woodick Company has returned from an extensive trip through the Middle West. He is enthusiastic over conditions.

Sales Manager Joe Gilbert of the Gilbert Tire & Rubber Company was in Boston the last two days visiting the local branch of that company.

H. L. Smith, formerly president of the Premier Motor Car Company, spent Monday and Tuesday in this city.

110,000 WOMEN IN FRENCH ARMS WORK

Paris, Feb. 9.—There are now 110,000 French women employed in making munitions, says the Socialist paper Humanite. Of these 40,000 have been recruited since November. "French captains of industry," says Humanite, "declare the women make better hooters than men."

A SPOONFUL OF SALTS RELIEVES ACHING KIDNEYS

We eat too much meat, which clogs Kidneys, says noted authority.

If back hurts or Bladder bothers, stop all meat for a while.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid, which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood, and they become sort of paralyzed and logey. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink—Avertisement.

FILENE WARNS U. S. OF GREAT TRADE WAR

By International News Service.

Washington, Feb. 9.—An appeal for Pan-Americanism, to combat the efforts of European powers to capture the world's markets after the war, was made to the thousand-odd business men attending the Chamber of Commerce convention here today by E. A. Filene of Boston.

The European war will be followed by a race among the world powers to capture markets that will take the form of the most destructive competition the world has ever seen," declared Mr. Filene. "The reaction on American commerce will be sudden and menacing."

Mr. Filene proposed that the United States take the initiative in the formation of an international court, supported by a League of Nations, agreeing to use concerted force, and if necessary military force against any nation refusing to submit controversies to the tribune for arbitration. He declared that chambers of commerce all over the country have declared in favor of this plan.

The charge that the chief interest of the American business man in the European war is the chance it affords him to coin Europe's agony into dividends was warmly denied by Mr. Filene.

"We are now, and will become more so, the target of competition because we will be the richest nation under the sun when this war closes," he said.

"Aggravating troubles will be injected into our labor problems. We should prepare to meet these things now."

SELECTMEN LOSE WATERTOWN WAR

Watertown citizens, at their special election voted 354 to 267 against letting the selectmen take legal action against the Boston & Maine, which company, the selectmen maintain, is keeping horses at the Union Stockyard without legal right to do so.

BRAKEMAN KILLED BY A LOCOMOTIVE

Michael Lowder, brakeman on the Boston & Maine, fell under the wheels of a switching locomotive in the yard near Prison Point, East Cambridge, and sustained injuries which caused his death.

Lost Tin Box Leads to Suit in Will Case

Failure of the old Lowell National Bank of Lowell to find a tin box containing the "last will and testament" of Sarah Spalding of that city has caused a mixup among the legatees and the filing of an attachment for $80,000 damages by John F. Sweyer of Lowell as administrator of the estate. The papers in the attachment proceedings were filed today with the clerk of the Probate Court, East Cambridge.

Sawyer claims that some time before the death of Sarah Spalding she placed in a tin box her last will and testament. She died September 6, 1902. The box couldn't be found. After some time when no will was found, Charles H. Coburn of Lowell was appointed administrator. That was on May 27, 1907. Soon after his appointment Coburn and his attorney, J. Gilbert Hill, went to the banking rooms to get the tin box containing the papers of the deceased. The bank was unable to find the box.

After a time Coburn administer the estate and distributed among the next of kin, $25,802.27. His final account as administrator was allowed in the Probate Court, East Cambridge, June 7, 1905. Early in February, 1916, the bank found the tin box with the will in it and it so happened that none of the next of kin to whom Coburn had distributed the money was named in the will.

M'CALL AND BIRD QUOTED FOR A TARIFF BOARD

Governor McCall and Charles Sumner Bird, former Progressive candidate for Governor, were mentioned among those who favor a non-partisan tariff commission to take the tariff out of politics by Representative John J. O'Brien of Chelsea today at a public hearing of the Committee on Federal Relations.

Representative O'Brien's resolve urging Congress to establish a tariff commission was unopposed.

He quoted Governor McCall as saying, "For twenty years I have favored an independent tariff commission."

Mr. Bird was quoted as saying: "Tariff tinkering is deadly to American trade. If Congress would establish a tariff commission I would say 'Amen.'"

"Massachusetts industries come to a standstill and the laboring man is thrown out into the streets at the slightest suggestion of tariff tinkering," declared Representative O'Brien. "The establishment of a tariff commission would take the tariff out of politics and would remove it from the selfish influences of lobbyists."

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash the poisons and toxins from system before putting more food into stomach.

Says inside-bathing makes anyone look and feel clean, sweet and refreshed.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do.

For every ounce of food and drink taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste material is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.

A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons, gases and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into it.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside-bathing. Men and women who are accustomed to wake up with a dull, aching head or have furred tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, sallow complexion, others who have biliousness attacks, acid stomach or constipation, are assured of pronounced improvement in both health and appearance shortly.—Advertisement.

ECZEMA ITCHED AND BURNED

On Face and Hands. Got No Sleep Because of Intense Irritation. In Two Months

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"When I was ten years of age, I was troubled with eczema on my face and hands. It took the form of pimples which grew larger and there were so many of them that I was ashamed to go out. They itched and burned for three months and I got no sleep at night because of the intense irritation caused by scratching all the time. I thought I would be disfigured for life.

"I tried several remedies but they were of no use to me. I read of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and decided to get them and in two weeks I could see a rapid change and I was entirely healed in two months." (Signed) Angelo Di Napoli, 168 Endicott St., Boston, Mass., Aug. 3, 1915.

Sample Each Free by Mail

With 32-p. Skin Book on request. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston." Sold throughout the world.

Cocoanut Oil Fine for Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months. —Advertisement.

Get It First—Not Last

When a cold grips your system it shows that your condition is weakened—remember that. Do not trust your strength to throw it off, because neglected colds have brought more sickness than any other one thing, while weakening catharsis and stimulating syrups are depressing and dangerous.

The one best treatment for any cold—the one so often relied on when others fail, is the powerful blood-nourishment in Scott's Emulsion which feeds the very sources of bodily strength to suppress the present cold and generate strength to thwart further sickness.

Get Scott's first, not last—and insist on the genuine—always free from alcohol and injurious drugs.

ADVERTISE YOUR WANTS IN THE BOSTON AMERICAN

YEAR TO SAVE BIRTHPLACE OF POET

Mrs. Marian Longfellow of No. 11 Verndale street, Brookline, Eastern vice-president of the International Longfellow Society, and niece of the beloved poet, writes to the Boston AMERICAN to supplement the fact that there is still a year in which to save the Longfellow birthplace in Portland, Me., from mortgage foreclosure proceedings.

She mentions a contribution of $566 given by William Randolph Hearst toward the cause of preserving the structure so closely associated with the poet's life.

The association has an additional year in which to redeem the Longfellow birthplace by raising the $3,000 second mortgage. Members of the Portland Longfellow organization made announcement of this extra year of grace, and sent out a plea for funds. It is suggested that on Sunday, February 27, the 109th anniversary of the poet's birth, persons all over the country join in helping to raise the necessary money. Friday, February 25, and Monday, February 28, are suggested as days when school children raise their contributions.

NOT FORECLOSED.

Statement that the mortgage had been foreclosed, and that the birthplace had passed out of the hands of the international association, was given wide publicity, much to the distress of the association members.

In further explaining their false impression Mrs. Marian Longfellow Davis writes as follows:

Editor Boston AMERICAN:

I have always felt that the Boston AMERICAN was a friend of the play. The International Longfellow society is not receiving fair play (as regards the work) from certain newspapers.

A Portland paper has repeatedly tried to nullify our work by spreading in its columns the "News" that the "birthplace" is no longer in our hands, and that the mortgage has been foreclosed. It has again spread the word that the house is lost to us, thus preventing persons, clubs, associations, etc., from extending further aid.

FALSE STATEMENT.

This statement is absolutely false. The house is still in our hands, and we have one year in which to save it.

We have never forgotten that the generous donation of $500 toward this work came from your own Mr. Hearst.

You will readily see how widespread is the harm being done by the statement that the "birthplace" is beyond saving.

I believe somehow and somehow help will come to us, and there is no aid more powerful than that given by the press. I have been a member of the "craft" myself and know. Although the post was only my uncle, I am heart and soul in the project to save his birthplace.

Very truly yours,

(Mrs.) Marian Longfellow.

Suggestions for the formation of Longfellow clubs will be readily furnished by Mrs. Caroline C. Edwards, No. 465 Congress street, Portland, in behalf of the Portland Longfellow organization.

BAY STATE LEADS IN HEALTH WAY

Chicago, Feb. 9.—Massachusetts leads the States in public health work, according to the findings of Dr. Charles V. Chapin, Commissioner of Health of Providence, in his report to the American Medical Association, gathered for its annual congress on medical organization, public health and medical licensing.

Dr. Chapin's rating of health departments is based on a point system of measuring health activities. Under his system a perfect score rates at 1,000 points. He gives Massachusetts a score of 745; New York, 720; Pennsylvania, 716; Minnesota, 570; New Jersey, 555; Indiana, 526; Maryland, 507; Kansas, 498; Vermont, 486; Ohio, 482; Illinois, 346.

WILEY FEARS RACE IS BEING STIFLED

By International News Service.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Dr. Harvey W. Wiley has announced his advocacy of a plan to examine marriage candidates before the issuance of a license.

"There is a great wave of misinformation spreading over the country in regarding to nutrition, ventilation and sanitation," he said. "Congress should consider measures to relieve the situation. Lack of knowledge of these cardinal principles of good living is stifling humanity at its very source. The race cannot be preserved when people utterly disregard these first laws of nature."

LOWELL BARREL PLANT IS BURNED

Lowell, Feb. 9.—Fire in the kilnroom of the barrel factory of the Lowell Fertilizer Company's plant destroyed 60,000 barrels, the barrel plant and for a time threatened to destroy the main fertilizer plant and $1,000,000 worth of fertilizer.

The only water available was from the supply furnished by the pumps of the plant, as the proximity of the fire to the river prevented engines brought from Lowell getting near enough the Concord River to use it. The fire was not extinguished until early today, with a loss estimated at $40,000.

WINS $10,000 VERDICT AGAINST ELEVATED

Miss Nellie E. Harrington has received a verdict of $10,000 by a Suffolk jury in her suit against the Boston Elevated Railway for injuries received by falling between a temporary platform and an Elevated train at the North Station November 7, 1908. At a previous trial Judge Pratt ordered a verdict for the defendant.

Dancer to Rewed Ex-Husband.

New York, Feb. 9.—Mabel Jones, premier dancer in the "Honey Bunch Peanuties" in Sol Washburn's "Merry Moments Review," is going to be remarried to Martin Woodworth, whom she divorced three months ago.

LILLIAN TAYLOR, who denies any part in shooting her stepfather at home in Providence.

Providence, Feb. 9.—Miss Lillian Taylor today reiterated her denial of the charge that she is in any way responsible for the shooting of her stepfather, George W. Ryan, who is reported as dying at the Rhode Island Hospital.

The young woman declares her belief that Ryan attempted suicide. Ryan charges that Miss Taylor or John Manney, who is held in $3,000 bonds until February 18, shot him on his visit to the home of Mrs. Ryan, his wife. They have not been living together for some time.

Ryan declares that he surprised Manney at the Ryan home, and that he heard the girl say:

"Now you can give it to him."

Manney's wife was summoned and his two sons, eleven and thirteen years old, were questioned at home. They told of Manney retiring early and being called from bed by Mrs. Manney, when she learned the cause of the commotion across the street and informed her husband that some one had been shot.

Edward Boylan found the revolver. Olneyville is greatly excited over the shooting.

F. L. HAYNES, FORMER POSTAL AID, DIES

Former Assistant Postmaster Frank L. Haynes is dead at his home, No. 12 Rossetter street, Dorchester. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock with burial at Mt. Hope Cemetery.

Mr. Haynes was assistant under Postmaster Mansfield, being appointed by Mayor Hibbard.

In 1900 he served as Street Cleaning Commissioner. He was prominent in Republican political conferences, and elected the Boston campaigns of Governors Draper, Foss and McCall.

"SPY CRAZE" HITS U. S. SWITCHBOARD

By International News Service.

Washington, Feb. 9.—The "spy craze" has hit the Democratic side of the House. A Republican telephone operator on the House switchboard lost his job, charged with "eavesdropping." Representative Matthew M. Neely of West Virginia declared the boy had listened when he was talking, discussing an important question over the telephone, and had reported his conversation to Republican politicians.

GLOUCESTER SHIPS IN OCEAN TRADE

Gloucester, Feb. 9.—Because of the shortage in ships, due to the war losses and the great needs of the warring governments, Gloucester fishing boats are to be enrolled in transatlantic trade. The schooner Elmer E. Gray of the Atlantic Maritime Company is about to sail. She has been chartered by a St. John firm and will go there and load lumber for England.

DWIGHT MALLORY'S BODY RECOVERED

By International News Service.

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 9.—The body of Dwight P. Mallory, society leader and clubman, who perished November 20 while trying to reach the Susquehanna docking flats in a motor scow during a gale, has been found in Chesapeake Bay, opposite Tolchester Beach. A reward of $5,000 had been offered for its recovery.

WELLESLEY TO AGAIN APPEAL CUSTOM FIGHT

Wellesley College has lost in a controversy with the customs officials at Boston, the Board of United States General Appraisers having handed down a decision holding that full duty would have to be paid on stained glass panels presented to the institution by Lady Huggins, widow of Sir William Huggins, noted English astronomer. The college may take the case to the United States Court of Customs Appeals.

Sarah F. Whitney, professor of astronomy at Wellesley, testified that she had first seen the panels in Sir William's home in England in 1896 and that two years ago Lady Huggins announced her intention of presenting the panels to Wellesley College.

Later they were shipped to this country and displayed in front of the windows of the college observatory in order, Professor Whitney said, that they might be illuminated by the light coming from the outside. She testified further that two of the panels dealt with strictly astronomical subjects, while the others related to subjects not so strictly astronomical, though all the windows were considered an educational character. While the panels stood in the middle of the thirteenth century style, they were comparatively modern. Each panel was two feet long by one foot wide.

The Boston Collector took duty at 30 per cent. ad valorem, while William E. Waterhouse, counsel for the college, made several claims for free entry, among them that duty exemption should be given to antiquities imported in good faith for exhibition by the college free as antiquities over 100 years old, or as pictorial paintings on glass falling under the tariff's classification for works of art.

TAKEN IN SCOLLAY SQ. POLICE CHASE

A chase through Scollay square today resulted in the arrest by Patrolman Elijah Nickerson of Salvatore Sawtelle, twenty-five, for assault and battery on Mrs. Mary Brigando of No. 91 Prince street.

According to the police, Mrs. Brigando and her stepdaughter, Elizabeth Grunini, twenty, formerly Sawtelle's fiancee, were returning from the courthouse where they had gone to get a warrant for the arrest of Sawtelle on the charge of assault on the girl.

Sawtelle met them on Tremont street. There was an argument, during which, the police say, Sawtelle struck Mrs. Brigando, knocking her to the sidewalk. A crowd gathered and Sawtelle fled. Patrolman Nickerson, on duty at the crossing at Pemberton square, gave chase, arresting Sawtelle near Adams square.

All three were taken into the Court square station, where the argument was resumed, the two women accusing Sawtelle of breaking his engagement to the Grunini girl, with whom they said he had been keeping company for three years.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—gaze lifeless under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes without sparkle.

Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent. of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective.

They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of poisons.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

WILSON TARIFF BILL BEFORE THE HOUSE

By International News Service.

Washington, Feb. 9.—The administration's views and plans for a tariff commission were today laid before Congress. A new bill, creating a commission with broad powers—extending far beyond the tariff—was introduced in the House of Representative Doremus of Michigan, chairman of the Democratic Congressional committee. Doremus has been in close touch with Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo and other administration officials since the President announced himself in favor of the scheme.

The Doremus bill would open the way for a thorough revision of the tariff in almost any direction, and is filled with plans for the encouragement of American industry. Nowhere in the bill is the protective policy mentioned, but there are broad hints of "preventing unfair and destructive foreign competition." The bill will be taken up by the Democrats of the House Ways and Means Committee on Thursday.

The bill provides for a commission of not more than three of one political party, to be named by the President. Each would receive a salary of $10,000 and would devote his whole time to the commission.

The powers of the commission would be limited to investigation and reports to Congress and the President. The bill would authorize the commission:

To investigate and recommend to Congress the encouragement of new industries.

To investigate industrial conditions at home and abroad and recommend readjustment of tariff duties.

To recommend maximum and minimum tariff rates, leaving the Federal Trade Commission to fix the rates between the established limits.

To assist the Federal Trade Commission in "preventing the dumping of foreign products upon the American market in unfair and destructive competition."

To investigate the relations of duties on raw and finished products and tariff classifications.

"Thamar" Ballet Depicts Vampire Queen's Orgies

By FRED J. McISAAC.

"Thamar," a one-act ballet by Leon Baast, was presented for the first time in America at the Boston Opera House last night.

It was the last performance of the Russian Ballet and a very large audience was present.

The scene of "Thamar," is the throne room of the Castle of the Queen Thamar, a vampire sort of damsel who lures travelers into her abode, dallies with them awhile, and then turns them over to her executioners. The settings of this ballet are more marvelous in color, shape and imagination than anything yet seen.

The music by Balakireff is formless, furious and barbaric, and admirably suited to the wicked little drama. The dagger dance of the male chorus was very thrilling.

Flora Revalles as the Vampire Queen is mystic, but rather a stick as a dancer. And Adolf Bolm, as the Prince Victim, revealed himself as nothing but an agile jumper.

Surely this vaunted troupe is very poverty stricken when it comes to sole dancers.

"L'Apres Midi d'un Faun," "The Fire Bird" and "Prince Igor" completed the bill.

HANOVER CARNIVAL FAVORED BY SNOW

Hanover, N. H., Feb. 9.—With the heavy snowfall of the past week the last obstacle to the most successful Winter carnival Dartmouth has ever had has been removed. The prospects now are that the biggest crowd that any Hanover social event ever attracted will attend.

The carnival opens tomorrow night and closes Saturday.

COUNCIL VOTES TO PAY ITSELF $500

The members of the City Council of Cambridge voted themselves an annual salary of $500, in monthly instalments, and made provision for these instalments out of the reserve fund until April 1. An appropriation for the yearly salaries is to be included in the yearly budget then.

OFFER ALLIANCE AGAINST WEEKS TO M'CALL

That friends of Colonel Roosevelt in this State have made overtures to Governor McCall's supporters to combine their strength against Senator John W. Weeks at the Chicago convention became known today.

Colonel Roosevelt's friends, acting on the supposition that Governor McCall would not be a candidate for President, seeks to have the McCall and Roosevelt forces agree on four delegates-at-large and on delegates in the various districts who will vote against Weeks.

If Governor McCall should become a candidate and it appears evident that he has secure the Presidential nomination the Roosevelt forces declare these willingness to support him.

Otherwise they and the McCall delegates, would support Roosevelt or some other Progressive Republican who could unite the factions of the Republican and Progressive parties.

Their sole desire is to defeat Weeks, Root and all other reactionaries, it is said.

Because of the fact that the Roosevelt friends refuse to support Governor McCall, the plan is said to appeal to the latter's friends. The idea is to send an unpledged delegation.

The plan is said to have originated with Joseph Walker, Former Senator Charles E. Burbank and Charles Henry Davis.

INDICT TEIPER ON DEATH CHARGE

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 9.—John Edward Teiper, accused of having killed his mother and his brother, Frederick, and of having probably fatally beaten his sister, Grace, on the Orchard Park road, was indicted today on a charge of first degree murder. The sister is still in the hospital unconscious.

KILLED BY LISBON ANARCHIST BOMB

Lisbon, Feb. 9.—A bomb thrown by an anarchist killed one person and injured nine others today. Three unexploded bombs were found by the police and to each was a card bearing the words, "Vive Anarchy."

100,000 QUIT IN N. Y. GARMENT STRIKE

By International News Service.

New York, Feb. 9.—A complete tie-up of the men's garment making industry in New York is threatened as the result of grievances of long standing. It was estimated that more than 100,000 workers failed to appear for work today and that more than 200,000 men and women workers will have quit within the next twenty-four hours.

So menacing is the situation that Mayor Mitchel decided to intervene in an effort to effect a settlement. Fears were expressed that it would be the most serious labor disturbance in the history of the city and Police Commissioner Woods, Deputy Commissioner Dunham and Chief Inspector Schmittberger held a conference, after which they moved heavy forces of police and detectives into districts where garment making factories are located.

Circulars were distributed among the waistmakers and dressmakers calling a general strike this afternoon. The first disturbance occurred at the subway station in Fourteenth street. Three women strikers were arrested, charged with disorderly conduct.

FAT MEN BARRED ON NEW YORK WORK

By International News Service.

New York, Feb. 9.—Fat men will be barred from city jobs under a ruling made by the Municipal Civil Service Commission.

The purpose of the commission is to prevent the appointment of those so physically unfit that they cannot expect to continue efficient service for a reasonable term.

CLAIM PERJURY DURING SWIG HEARING

The election petition hearing in the Superior Court, charging Representative Simon Swig of Ward 21 with violating the Corrupt Practices Act by spending more than $100 at the state election, ended today when Attorney Joseph P. Walsh, who represented the petitioners, completed his argument in which he charged perjury had been committed during the hearing.

"This case is filled with perjury," said Walsh, "and the District Attorney should be asked to investigate if there had been perjury, as I contend, there is only one inference to be drawn and that is that Swig is guilty. I charge Swig with having expended more than $1,000 to secure his election.

"I deny the charges of blackmail and conspiracy made by Swig. This action was brought by Chester O'Brien, the defeated Democratic candidate in Ward 21. O'Brien believed he had a right to come into court when Swig, a carpet-bagger from Taunton, tried to purchase a seat in the House of Representatives."

Attorney Michael J. Sughrue, who represented Swig, asserted that the election petition should be dismissed. He said the petition was brought for the purposes of blackmail.

Judge Fox said the court would try to prepare its report this week.

TWO ARRESTS IN PLYMOUTH STRIKE

Plymouth, Feb. 9.—Two strikers were arrested today, charged with assault, when an excited crowd of their fellows rushed a line of men reporting for work at the Plymouth Cordage Works.

The police, two hundred strong, found one difficulty today in restraining the strikers, who were out in force and more than ever determined to prevent, if possible, desertions from their ranks.

ADMIRAL LITTLE DUPED BY "SAILOR"

New York, Feb. 9.—On complaint of Rear-Admiral William N. Little, U. S. N., retired, Charles Sturrutt, a sailor, was locked up at Police Headquarters. A month ago, said Admiral Little, he was approached by Sturrut, in regulation sailor garb. The alleged sailor said he had no money to reach his post at Newport, but had a check on his bank in Boston. Admiral Little indorsed the check for $6. It came back, marked "worthless."

THREE SENTENCED IN CLOTHING THEFT

John J. Bassett and Michael Perkins were sentenced to three months each in the House of Correction by Judge Logan in the South Boston court today for stealing a fur coat and dresses valued at $100 from the home of Elizabeth Pleshon, No. 5 B street, South Boston. Bartholomew Brennan, found guilty of receiving the property, was given similar sentence.

STRIKE SENTIMENT AT NEW BEDFORD

New Bedford, Feb. 9.—The Carders and Ring Spinners' Union and the Weavers' Protective Association, at general meetings here went on record as in favor of a general strike to secure a full 10 per cent. wage increase in the mills. The carders' vote was a flat-flouted instruction to delegates to force the wage increase.

COURT MARTIAL ON FORT GREBLE FIRE

Newport, R. I., Feb. 9.—A court martial was ordered today as part of the investigation being made at Fort Greble, on Narragansett Bay, to determine the cause of two mysterious midnight fires, both of which were extinguished only after strenuous efforts by the barracks' fire brigade.

RECOVER BODY OF A BRIDGE SUICIDE

The body of an unidentified man who leaped off the Warren bridge was recovered today by the police and taken to the morgue. The man was about thirty years old, five feet eight inches, weighed 140 pounds, was of light complexion and wore a black suit and overcoat, dark striped shirt and blue tie.

CLAIMS IT CURED HER RHEUMATISM

Mrs. Louis Rogers of No. 9 St. Charles St. Gives Testimonial for Plant Juice.

Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalency of stomach trouble. While stomach disorder is among the most common diseases that prevail, it is sometimes the last recognized by the patients, who content themselves with "doctoring the symptoms, while the original disease may be constantly sapping their very life blood. For these symptoms are unheeded more serious results may be expected. It is the only way nature has of warning you that all is not well with your health.

Plant Juice relieves the stomach of its burden, thereby giving it an opportunity to regain its normal strength, tones up, strengthens and revitalizes the entire system, restores the lost power of digestion; acts on the liver and kidneys, and banishes Rheumatism from the blood.

Many local people are daily testifying to the good results obtained in the most distressing cases. Recently Mrs. Louis Rogers of No. 9 St. Charles street, who has been a resident of this city for the past forty years and has hosts of friends, stated:

"For years I have been troubled with my stomach and suffered with rheumatism so that my feet and limbs would swell up and I could not stand on them and was laid up in bed for weeks at a time. My food would ferment in my stomach and cause gas to form there, and I was all bloated and suffered intense pain. I could not sleep at night, as I suffered so, and gradually got weaker and weaker and seemed to have no strength left in me. My circulation was so poor that my feet and hands were almost numb and my lives and kidneys were badly affected. All the treatments I had taken did me no good and I had tried all kinds of medicine I knew of without relief. I was so discouraged I did not know what to do, when a friend, who had been cured by my Plant Juice, recommended me to try it. It was certainly wonderful in my case, as it has relieved my stomach, liver and kidneys, and completely cured my rheumatism and I now have no more pain whatever. I am telling all my friends about it, as I think it is a grand medicine."

The Plant Juice Man is at the Liggett Drug Co.'s store, corner of Washington and Avon streets, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy.—Advertisement.

MISS FAIRCHILD A GUEST

PREPAREDNESS TALK BEFORE SMART SET

MISS FRANCES FAIRCHILD.

Miss Frances Fairchild, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Fairchild, who took an important part in the subdebutante events of the earlier season, will be in Boston for the dinner being given next Monday night at the Copley-Plaza for Miss Sarah Sherburne, a debutante, and one of Miss Fairchild's closest friends. Miss Fairchild, who is now living in New York, will come over for the Sherburne event. She will probably make her debut next year in New York instead of in Boston, as was originally planned. Mrs. Fairchild, who is the godmother of Miss Sherburne, will also come over for the dinner.

o o o

A meeting at the Hotel Beaconsfield will be held Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, under the direction of the Brookline committee for the Red Cross enrollment campaign, at which J. Randolph Coolidge, Jr., of the Security League will discuss "Preparedness," and Miss Katherine P. Lord will talk upon the work of the society. Members of the committee in charge are Miss Elsie Burr, Miss Mary Pierce, Mrs. Henry Richardson, Mrs. William P. Sarevs, Miss Mabel Stedman, Miss Theresa Weld and Miss Mary E. Williams.

The following girls will act as ushers: Miss Edith Hunnewell, Miss Helen Winsor, Miss Barbara Rice, Miss Alice Allen and Miss Elizabeth Deford. There will be music by Dr. Frank P. Colloten. The Rev. D. D. Addison will preside.

o o o

A lecture by Miss Katherine Loring before Hyde Park society women enrollment workers, a notable meeting Thursday at the Hotel Beaconsfield, Brookline, and at Radcliffe and Harvard, a mass meeting in Cambridge and other gatherings being planned today promised the desired 30,000 names before the end of the six weeks' enrollment campaign of the Metropolitan Chapter of the Red Cross Society.

Mrs. Falconer will preside at the Hyde Park meeting. Ministers of the churches there have encouraged the campaign from the pulpits. Hyde Park those thus far leading in securing names are Miss Nellie Hower, 75, and Mrs. Frances Harnum, 78. Mrs. Charles T. Stack and Miss Ruth Humphreys have also been successful in securing members. Director Snow of the Hyde Park Y. M. C. A. is to divide the next two weeks to enrolling names.

Mrs. Charles Flagg, Mrs. James H. Kennedy and John C. White, all of Boston, are now visiting at the Chateau Frontenac, Quebec.

FOR EXTENSION OF BOYLSTON SUBWAY

J. Randolph Coolidge, former president of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, appeared today before the legislative Committee on Metropolitan Affairs to urge the extension of the Boylston street subway to Post-office square.

"This whole subject of transportation in Boston demands a coherent system so that relief will be distributed and there be no congestion," he said. "It seems to me that on the whole subject of our transportation we should have a permanent technical commission which should plan for transportation in the whole Metropolitan District.

"We shall never have a co-ordinate system until we have such a board. It seems to me that Postoffice square is a focal point."

Elbridge R. Anderson, representing real estate owners on Boylston street, spoke for the Arlington street station in the subway. He said:

"This station has been sanctioned by the Legislature. It has been held up by the Elevated, which has no right to interfere with the public interests of this city. Around Arlington street there are valuable real estate interests and business interests in this locality are thoroughly in favor of this station. It means not only increased business, but it also means the development of the vacant lands around Park square."

Otto J. Pichler made another plea for the Arlington street station and showed how this part of the city could become a thriving business centre.

Albert A. Gleason, representing the Columbus Avenue Association, pleaded for a Boylston street subway station at Park square and showed how Columbus avenue could be improved by such a subway at that place.

Jewelry Strike.

New York, Feb. 9.—The first jewelry strike in New York in thirteen years went into effect today, when three thousand jewelry workers went out. They are demanding a forty-four-hour week, the abolition of piece work under certain conditions and more money.

REVEAL SECRET STATIONS FOR WIRELESS

By International News Service.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Secret wireless stations, in charge of confidential agents of foreign governments, especially German and British, dot the coasts of the United States and are used for the communication of cipher messages of unneutral character, according to information in the hands of the Navy and Commerce Departments.

These departments are so short of agents and money that they are unable to make a census, even, putting the secret stations out of commission. The situation is the chief contributing cause for the new move on the part of the Navy Department to place all radio stations in the country under governmental control. Practically all the secret stations are only receiving stations, it is understood.

Officials here today pointed to the raid of the British liner Appam as illustrative of the existence of these secret receiving stations. About noon the day before the Appam reached Hampton Roads a rumor reached New York that an interned vessel was preying. The next morning the Appam appeared. Officials are certain that news of her approach to the coast was conveyed to the secret wireless stations and leaked out.

BETTER SERVICE PROMISED BY "L"

Superintendent of Traffic Edward Dana of the Elevated has promised a committee from the Democratic Club of Ward 23, composed of President Frank J. Finneran, John J. Donlon, Jr., and Henry Quinn, that surface cars to the Roslindale, West Roxbury and Mount Hope sections will begin in the near future to travel from Forest Hills station out Washington street, around Ashland street and back to Forest Hills station by Hyde Park avenue on a ten and five minute time. Heretofore cars have been running on a twenty-minute time.

Watch and Ward Agent Fined on Assault Charge

Joseph E. Johnson, an agent for the Watch and Ward Society, was fined $20 in the South Boston Court today for assaulting Guiseppi Cello, who attempted to collect a bill of $1.44 due him, it is claimed, for coal he had delivered to Johnson at his home on Dorset street, Dorchester. Johnson appealed.

Cello testified that when he went to Johnson's home the latter met him in the doorway, pointed a loaded revolver at his head and commanded him to get out. Cello wrested the revolver from Johnson and made him back into the house. Later Cello was arrested. After telling his side of the story he swore out a warrant against Johnson on the assault and battery charge.

Judge Logan said:

"I think the revolver license of Mr. Johnson should be revoked."

FLEE FACTORY EXPLOSION AT TAUNTON

Taunton, Feb. 9.—A compressed air tank in a room where thirty-three girls and a dozen men were working, in the Reed and Barton silver factory here, exploded today.

Fragments flew in every direction. Three girls fainted, and the rest fled in a panic to fire escapes and stairways.

The windows of the room were blown out.

It was at first feared that three girls who fainted had been hit by the flying fragments. But when they were picked up, it was found they had fainted.

One of them, Lillian Pratt, was still unconscious two hous after the explosion.

MODEL HAS ARTIST SENT TO WORKHOUSE

New York, Feb. 9—Edward McDowell, fifty-nine, an artist, was found guilty of disorderly conduct and sentenced to six months in the workhouse. The complainant was Mrs. Nellie Thomas, twenty-two, of Brooklyn, who accused the artist of acting improperly when she visited his studio in answer to an advertisement asking for models.

Grace Barron, of Brooklyn, a model, testified to McDowell's conduct when she visited his studio.

Thin People Gained Weight Quickly

By Following This Simple Suggestion

Thin men and women who would like to increase their weight with its pounds of healthy "stay there" fat should try eating a little Sargol with their meals for a while and note results. Here is a good test worth trying. First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Then take Sargol—one tablet with every meal—for two weeks. Then weigh and measure again. It isn't a question of how you look or feel or what your friends say and think. The scales and the tape measure will tell their own story, and many thin men and women we believe can easily add from five to eight pounds in the first fourteen days by following this simple direction. And best of all, the new flesh stays put.

Sargol does not of itself make fat, but mixing with your food, it aims to turn the fats, sugars and starches of what you have eaten, into rich, ripe fat producing nourishment for the tissues and blood—prepare it in an easily assimilated form which the blood can readily accept. Much of this nourishment now passes from your body as waste. But Sargol works to stop the waste and do it quickly and to make the fat producing contents of the very same meals you are eating now develop pounds and pounds of healthy flesh between your skin and bones. Sargol is safe, pleasant, efficient and inexpensive. All leading druggists in this vicinity sell it in large boxes—forty tablets to a package—on a guarantee of weight increase or money back as found in each large box.

HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After a few applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.—Advertisement.

A CHILD DOESN'T LAUGH AND PLAY IF CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! Is tongue coated, breath feverish and stomach sour?

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach, liver, bowels.

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills, give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." For sale by all reliable druggists.—Advertisement.

DON'T LOSE HOPE IN KIDNEY TROUBLE

I was troubled with what the doctor said was Kidney and Bladder trouble and after trying several doctors, gave up all hopes of ever being well again, until a friend of mine told me about Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. ## "Most Beautiful Hat Model," Charged with U. S. Customs Fraud

Miss Anna F. Holch of New York, reputed to be the most beautiful "hat model" in this country, who is accused, with her employer, Herman P. Tappe, of undervaluing some imported millinery.

New York, Feb. 9—Federal authorities now admit that the case against Herman P. Tappe, fashionable milliner and modiste, and Miss Anna Holch, said to be "the most beautiful hat model in America," was not an important one. They were under nominal bail Monday by Federal Judge Clayton on charges of having conspired to defraud the government of customs duties.

Mr. Tappe is president of Tappe, Inc., of No. 25 West Fifty-seventh street. Miss Holch is in his employ. Indictments against them were returned last December, but were kept under seal, as the defendants were abroad in the interests of the firm.

Saturday they returned on the liner Baltic and submitted to service.

The Federal officials state that the amount of duty alleged to be lost by the government is not large. The indictment, they say, was merely the result of a crusade being waged by the United States Attorney's office against customs irregularities.

The government alleges that in August, 1914, the defendants returned from abroad with certain wearing apparel, artificial flowers and jewelry. It was charged that Miss Holch declared these as personal baggage with the result that the articles were undervalued.

ONE FAMILY IN TWO OWNS AUTO

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 9.—Every other family in Pawnee County has an automobile. This is probably the world's record. Kansas experts figure an average Kansas family at four and a half persons. Pawnee has an automobile for every nine persons. Stafford has one for every ten persons. Mitchell for every twelve and McPherson for every thirteen.

FRAMINGHAM MAN IS KILLED BY TRAIN

Northboro, Feb. 9.—Edward Webster of Framingham, while crossing in his motor truck the tracks of the Fitchburg branch of the New Haven Railroad, was struck by an engine and instantly killed. His companion, Edward Haskell of Framingham, was badly injured.

SOTHERN-MARLOWE SALE TOTAL $3,400

New York, Feb. 9.—The second day of the auction of the properties and effects owned by Julia Marlowe and E. H. Sothern ended with an appraisal mate total for the day's sales of $1,700, about $100 more than was realized on Monday, and bringing the total for the auction to $5,400.

An unusually large crowd was present, women predominating, and there was lively bidding for the many articles of stage apparel. A scimiter in a white leather scabbard worn by Miss Marlowe as Viola in "Twelfth Night" brought $50, one of the best prices of the day.

MILES BELIEVES U. S. COASTS ARE SAFE

Washington, Feb. 9.—Lieutenant-General Nelson A. Miles, retired, is not one of those who believes an invading army could devastate the Atlantic seaboard.

In a strong statement before the Senate military committee, he practically said the idea, and summarized his own beliefs thus:

"If 50,000 men could by any stretch of the imagination be loaded into 500 ships and all landed on our shores at once, the expedition would be abortive.

"If we could not raise enough men and train them to vanquish the invaders before they could be reinforced, I would leave the country and ad mit other nation to wish to declare allegiance."

General Miles praised the National Guard, declared compulsory military service unnecessary, favored three-year enlistments and recommended a regular standing army of 140,000 or 150,000 men.

He submitted an army reorganization plan contemplating recruiting a force of 1,250,000 men by expanding the units of organization. He said the National Guard should be organized the same way. He said it would be easily possible to raise 2,000,000 men if necessary, in a reasonably short time.

General Miles said the conscript was not as good a soldier as the volunteer. He said the United States was daily manufacturing more war materials than any two nations abroad are using in the same time, and that the experience in the Dardanelles shows guns aboard ships are no match for fortifications and submarines. He declared our coast fortifications equal to those of any in the world.

"Overseas expeditions," he said, "always have been very expensive, and as a rule disastrous. To cross the Atlantic or Pacific oceans to land in the United States would be a very serious undertaking."

An enemy, he said, might be able to get a force of 800,000 men on its ships, but would never be able to land that number on United States shores.

including new Chickering uprights and players, new Henry F. Miller uprights and players, new Hallet & Davis uprights and players, new Conway players, new Gabler uprights and players, new Briggs & Merrill uprights and players, new Poole pianos, and other equally fine makes of new uprights and players.

I walked through aisle after aisle of beautiful pianos on my sacrifice floor yesterday and noted the names of the great makers on the new uprights and players and then examined the prices on the tags. Even to me (who have seen wonderful bargains in the past) the prices seemed absurdly low—but my stock managers tell me that it takes low prices to get sales, but to me it does seem a pity that such high-class pianos must be so terribly sacrificed. However, selling pianos is my business. If you have been watching my advertisements for special bargains I strongly advise you to attend this sale. Bargains in Players.

Ebbets Would Cut Down Number of Bleacher Seats in National League Parks.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—This being the day on which the National League celebrates its fortieth anniversary and, in addition, there being but little left to do in the way of business, magnates of the old body slept late this morning. They are now in session listening to endless arguments in favor of a reduction in the number of twenty-five-cent seats.

This wonderful plan comes from the master mind of Charles Holiday Ebbets, Brooklyn owner and planner. Mr. Ebbets has come to the conclusion that in a majority of the big league parks, excepting his own, of course, there are altogether too many seats which the ordinary being can purchase for two bits. As the revenue from such a seat isn't so great as that derived from a fifty-cent board Ebbets would have them cut down. His plan doesn't meet with favor on the part of all the magnates, and if it goes through it will only be after a battle.

Another matter for consideration is the Ebbets draft rule, a rule which would allow the weaker clubs of the league to draft the best men in the minors, thus equalizing the playing strength of all teams and making the race better. This plan, too, is liable to meet with considerable opposition.

The other matter for consideration is one which has to do with the elimination of the twenty-one-player limit and establishing of the limit at twenty-five players. This scheme is favored by Harry Hempstead, New York; Percy Haughton, Boston, and Charles Weegmann, Chicago. Of the three matters to be considered this one has the best chance of going through.

HAUGHTON AN EARLY RISER.

Percy D. Haughton, with his manager, George T. Stallings and Business Manager Walter E. Hapgood, were early risers this morning. Whereas this trip had been more or less inclined to gloom during the earlier hours yesterday, they were a trifle more optimistic today. The reason for their optimism was the feeling that the first base problem will be easily settled.

After the conference with Charley Schmidt, all parties concerned, excepting possibly Schmidt, expressed the belief that the matter would be straightened out. Indications now point to the presence of the big first backer at Miami along with the rest of the club a few weeks hence.

Schmidt will in all probability receive a salary increase and will be in position to see his way clear to spend another season or two in Boston. There is no question but what the big fellow wants to play in the Hub, but at the same time he wants to be near his family. However, Manager Stallings thinks the matter will be settled in a manner satisfactory to all.

President Haughton remarked today that the addition of the duties of director of the National League to the others he now shoulders hasn't proved bothersome to him so far. They are no likely to either, with the passing of the amendment which established John K. Tener on a plane with Ban Johnson, so far as dictatorial powers go.

TENER BIG CHIEF.

Tener is now the court of last resort, and as such can rule the old league with an iron hand much after the fashion that Ban Johnson does the American League. Whereas formerly Tener made a decision which was subject to approval by the board of directors, his opinions now, once made, will stand.

Today Weegmann reiterated his statement that he did not anticipate trouble with Roger Bresnahan. Roger will in all probability become the owner of the Cleveland American Association franchise, and will transfer it to his home city, Toledo. There is formerly was held, and Roger feels certain that it can be brought back there and made a money maker. Ban Johnson is doing all he can to help the former Cardinal and Cub manager in his plans.

The question of the short left field fences in several of the ball parks came up for discussion. Everyone was aiming at the Philadelphia ground, where home runs are very easy to make. Hayden Dreyfuss of Pittsburgh suggested a rule to make it compulsory for a club to have a fence at least 275 feet from the home plate. The matter will come up for a vote today. The present rule limits the distance between the plate and the fence to 235 feet.

There was a complaint made last season that some of the diamonds are not accurate. President Tener ordered that each diamond be surveyed by a registered surveyor at the start of the season, and a report made to the league.

Peter Harrison, who was with the International League last season, was appointed an umpire. Al Orth, who was ill a greater part of last summer, will be given another trial. He is named as an alternate, and, if he can stand the strain, will be appointed a regular. The other arbiters named, or rather reappointed, are Bill Dinneen, Cy Rigler, Eason and Quigley.

Ed Geyrner, who controlled the Federal League club in Pittsburgh last year, is going to have a big job trying to unload Ed Konetchy. The Cincinnati club made an offer, said to be fifteen for the big first sacker, but called off all negotiations when it learned Roney has a contract for two years calling for $5,000 a season.

The league voted to continue a monthly pension to Mrs. Mary Pulliam Johnson, sister of the former president of the league. Restriction and legislation on passes was discussed, but no action was taken.

TWOMBLEY WILL GO BACK TO BALTIMORE

By International News Service.

New York, Feb. 9.—George Twombley, outfielder of the Reds, who sold to the Baltimore International, Twombley was with the Orioles before he went to Cincinnati.

LAST NIGHT IN RING

Manchester, N. H., Feb. 9.—In the main show Howard McKee of Canada and Joe Morgan of Manchester went six rounds in a draw, and Walter Butler of Toronto awarded Tommy West of Manchester in the second round.

Gardner, Feb. 9.—Dave Powers of Medway and Richard Gaudet of Hudson fought to a draw at Gardner's boxing show. Two other contests preceded the windup event.

John Evers Meets Haughton; Learns His Old Job Is Safe

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Captain Johnny Evers of the Braves was formally ordered to President Haughton by Manager Stallings in Pennock Alley at the Waldorf Astoria last night. It was their first meeting, and when they completed their little talk Haughton made it known Evers was a Boston fixture so long as he was able to put up his usual brilliant article of baseball.

"My contract with the Boston club has two more years to run and I was glad to learn Mr. Haughton does not intend trading me," states Trojan Johnny. "He's a regular fellow and I'm glad he likes me. He knows the game allright, and has a lot of good ideas.

"Mr. Haughton assured me the club intended keeping me and I'm glad of it. I would be lost playing for anybody else but Stallings and want to wind up my career in Boston. Say, isn't it fine that Schmidt is probably coming back! I'd hate to see 'Butch' retire."

Willard--Moran Bout Staged March 8

By International News Service.

New York, Feb. 9.—Jess Willard, heavyweight champion, and Frank Moran, challenger, will meet in a ten-round battle for the title at Madison Square Garden Wednesday night, March 8. The purse will be $70,000. Willard will receive $47,500 and Moran $22,500.

The bout will be promoted by "Tex" Rickard. He issued an official statement last night naming the date and giving out the size of the purses.

March 17 was the date originally fixed, but because Madison Squars Garden was already engaged for that night the date was changed.

According to Rickard, the directors of the Garden have agreed to accept $7,500, with no percentages, for its use.

Richard announces that Tom Jones, Willard's manager, and Ike Dorgan, representing Moran, will meet today to sign the final articles. The fighters' shares are to be paid out of a purse of $60,000, with $10,000 in bonuses.

Seats to accommodate 13,000 persons at prices to range from $50, box chairs, to $2 for the rear seats, will be constructed, according to Rickard, giving the promoters an average of $9 per seat, providing the Garden is filled.

Counting the 7½ per cent. of the gross, which goes to the State, with the rent of the Garden and other incidental expenses, it is estimated the total receipts will have to be in the neighborhood of $120,000 to assure the promoters a profit.

Rickard announced that the referee and stakeholder probably will be named today.

YALE'S TREAT MAY PROVE A 'FLIVVER'

New Haven, Ct., Feb. 9.—Yale is in for a wrestling treat Saturday night, Captain McIntyre of the grapplers has completed arrangements whereby "Strangler" Lewis and the "Masked Marvel" will meet for a one-hour bout in Yale gym. The match will follow the dual meet between Yale and Columbia.

Shean a Phil; New York Bits

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—The Braves beg to be excused from picking up Konetchy. Ed Gwinner asked $15,000 for Big Ed. Then, his robust $8,000 contract has two more years to run.

DAVE SHEAN, Providence's 1915 skipper, has signed with the Phillies. Pat Moran will give him a chance to take DeHaas' job away from him on the training trip. Looks as if Matty McIntyre will run the Grays.

M'NALLY and Shorten, two of Bill Carrigan's broilers, called on President Lannin and signed their contracts.

HENRY SINCLAIR'S failure to show up failed to make a hit with the Fed crowd. Stovall, Ganzel and a lot of others in the Coast League would be on hand for the meeting so that they could find out what is going to happen to them.

ONE outlaw, Pitcher "Heinie" Schultz, who became a Fed by skipping away from McGraw, has been bought back by Herrmann.

GEORGE WHITTED has quit the Holdout Club and signed with Manager Moran of the Phillies.

CHARLEY HERZOG has decided to keep Ivy Wingo. The Red chieftain alibis it wouldn't look right to sell such a stick catcher to the Braves. Gossip continues to have it that "Chief" Meyers is to land in Boston.

MAGNATE HEMPSTEAD states positively that players will not be on the 1916 Giants. Brooklyn or Boston will get the Indian, in all likelihood.

THE RABBITS' COLUMN

Walter J. Morganville, HORTSTOP OF THE BRAVES

It was only natural the newspaper men should try to get President Haughton talking football. He, however, has had too long an acquaintance with silence upon the subject to be drawn into anything. He was willing to talk baseball, and did, making a fine impression. When Boss Stallings says he knows the game, you can bank on him to be able to hold his own with the other magnates.

The fans are waiting patiently to learn what is coming the Braves' way. The club can use a few players. From indications it is going to be difficult to land them.

Catching material is either league is hard to find. Next to pitchers, club owners cling to their backstops, realizing the difficulty attendant upon a search for men who can make good in the big league.

If the Red Sox release a catcher, it is my opinion the man let go will land in the same league. The American League is in the same position in this particular.

Everybody in organized baseball breathed easier when the finding of Judge Landis was announced. The Judge paid baseball a fine tribute.

Ross Stallinks is waiting patiently for the Spring training bell to ring. When it sounds he hopes to find the lure of the diamond too strong for big Schmidt to resist. I trust the big fellow will reconsider his statement. Just the same, I am quite convinced that Schmidt means to retire. This leaves the first sack uncovered unless Sherwood Magee is sent there. "Sherry" can do a good job at the corner.

Mr. Sinclair's bargain counter of ball players is in for a Spring mark down.

Benny Kauff should listen to what Hobe Baker has to say. The wonderful hockey player dislikes being "written about," and wishes the public he didn't think him such a remarkable athlete. Can you imagine Benny having such modesty?

There is always something new in baseball. The American League holds its schedule meeting in New York February 17.

Here's hoping Bill Killifer's arm comes around all right. He is a grand catcher, and the champions need him badly.

Coach Mitchell of the Harvard team will soon begin active work with his men, which will mean all who have been out for the team, irregularly or any out in the squad. Fred means to give everyone a chance to show, which is the first real step in the right direction.

Fred evidently believes that in a big student body such as Harvard possesses there may be a few men who need but the proper direction to make good college ball players. Fred is right, and with Captain Haughton and the university may rest assured that the Harvard team will be composed of the best men among those who reported for the work.

This is the canning season for ball players. Watch them slip from the majors to the minors.

A few months make a difference in a ball player's life. Last Summer the Reds were after Jake Murray. Now President Herrmann says nothing doing. Such is life in the big league.

Dick Rudolph will have but a few weeks to put the polish on the Wilhams pitchers. He will join us on the trip to Miami, March 1. But let me say this, if any of the pitching material has anything to work with Dick will bring it out, and even though the time be short, the results will show his hand, I am sure.

C. Mack's Batboy Signs to Play with Tigers

Philadelphia, Feb. 9.—Ferd Moore, who two years ago was a clubhouse boy for the Athletics, today signed a contract with the Detroit Tigers. Moore, who is an infielder, is only eighteen years old. He has played first base for the Athletics in a number of exhibition games. "Connie" Mack did not think he was ripe for major league baseball, but someone tipped off Hughey Jennings about Moore, and the Detroit leader decided to give him a try-out.

HARVARD PERSONALS

JOHNNY ABBOT, the sprightly varsity second baseman and now understudy to Jack Wyide, the goal minder, on the hockey team, has a real grievance against the "Crimson." Harvard's daily. Abbot is now in his third year at Harvard. During last Spring's ball season he participated in every game and is getting into print now in hockey, but the "Crime" has yet to learn there is but one "t" in his name, instead of the customary two.

WESTMORE WILLCOX has a like fault to find. The paragraphers in his case knock an "l" out of the middle of his name.

SAM FELTON, manager of the crew, is planning on a week-end at his home in Chicago. He starts West tomorrow.

Crafty Levinsky Manages to Last With Jack Dillon

By International News Service.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Jack Dillon of Indianpolis, failed to live up to his reputation of being the "man killer" in his ten-round go against "Battling" Levinsky at the Broadway Sporting Club, Brooklyn, last night.

Dillon had a clear lead in six rounds. The Battler had a shade in two and the others were about even. Whenever Dillon threatened to put over a finishing crack, Levinsky ran into a clinch and held on until pried apart by the referee.

Spears-Reggie Finish First in 6-Day Race

Chicago, Feb. 9.—Bobbie Spears and Reggie McNamara crossed wires in the six day bike race that ended at the Coliseum last night and, two hours, according to the Tenth system of figuring, with a total of seventy-two points, but the plucky team of Thomas Smith and Willie Coburn from Newark, N. J., covered the greater distance, travelling one lap more than the winners.

The latter team gained a lap between 10 and 11 o'clock, during the last hour of riding, but in accordance with the Berlin system they did not get first money. Lawrence and Magin finished second, with fifty-five points.

LEONARD WHIPS BLOOM

Phil Takes Lavish Lacing from New York Lightweight—Counted Out Standing Up in Eighth.

BOSTON boxing fans want to see more of Benny Leonard the thrifty rigged twenty year old fighting machine from New York, who gave Phil Bloom, the stylish Brooklyn lightweight, the worst beating of his career at the Armory A. A. show, at the Hippodrome, last night.

Proving as early as the third round he had something—considerable—on Bloom, Leonard, working every inch the champion in the offing, shot over a Charley White-like left late in the seventh session. Down went Bloom, right in Master Benny's corner. As limp as a rag, and practically done for, Phil gamely clinbed back upon his pins at Referee Powers' toll of eight. The round had barely ten seconds more to go, and that's the only reason Bloom managed to stick it out.

The seventh round in Leonard's pet row. Likewise the plus frame for the other fifteen. Among the several youths Benny has stored away in that session is Joe Mandot, Southbridge 125-pound premier, who was operating high up in the lightweight scale prior to his meeting with "Hill" Gibson's all-round-a-yard-wide little battler. 'Twas Leonard's seventh-round keyed triumph over Mandot staged on Big Broadway early in the Winter, that made him

CERTAIN WITH BLOOM.

Where Bloom can't snuffed out in the seventh, it was curtains on his performance last night. Here up at the count, Phil didn't have a thing left to come for. There was no fight left in him, he sought had he gathered enough to keep his stupid body up.

It would have been little short of thirteen if Leonard had been the one to get the call. Phil was in the game, and naturally Master Benny was being kept completely occupied. However, before he could ram home another fusillade of punches the bell sounded and the session was over.

Bloom's seconds worked desperately on their chief during the one minute's rest and Phil appeared fairly spry when the eighth round was on. He jumped set to Leonard the first exchange, flipping in left and right, Leonard beat Bloom all around the ring. He flopped him again, back to the corner for the second time, no, there wasn't a noticeable lessening of blows, with Bloom leaning helplessly against the ropes.

The Brooklyn boy was done for. It was a positive pipe—and Referee Powers called the proceedings when he stepped in between the two boys, moved Leonard to his corner, the victor, and bent over Bloom to count him out and get their plucky old out passed battler.

The whole card was satisfactory except for the unfortunate ending of the George Robinson-Lee Anderson bout. The Cambridge negro was getting well as was Joe Benz, Hill, Mass., when Robinson suddenly went to his knees in the second frame. Then Anderson unintentionally hit him and Referee Powers called the foul.

Eddie Flynn and John Campo had fine session, with Eddie on the long end at the final bell. Johnny Dundee, a former Boston boy, had Young Cronson in the opener, with Willie Green as his opponent. Donovan was good enough to win.

A new departure for Boston fans was the presence of a band to enliven the evening. The musicians from the U. S. S. Nevada were present out of courtesy to Leonard, who favored the crew with a bout during the big review in New York. About 200 sailors from the Nevada were present to root for Leonard.

BOLIN ON EDGE FOR GO WITH GOULETTE

Eddie Bolin, the middleweight wrestling champion of Vermont, finished his training under the darkness of a fine shape for his return match with Eric Goulette at the Hippodrome tomorrow night.

Goulette is also confident he can repeat his victory over the Vermonter. It will be over a year since Bolin, who believes Bolin fell a victim to the Frenchman's "spin-to-win" hold and was whirled into a dizzy state from which he did not recover until the night was over.

The jiu jitsu match between Will Bingham and Takewaki has also stirred up considerable interest while the admirers of Michalof the Cossack, who will be on hand to force him to one hold or other he sung and possessed of wrestling trip. By International News Service.

New Haven, Ct., Feb. 9.—Nothing remains to be done in the cases of Le Gore, Milburn, Pumpelly, Plett and Easton, but the disqualified Yale athletes, except the formality of rendering a decision by the executive committee. All hope that they would be reinstated has vanished. The committee all along has intimated that in its opinion a clearly expressed rule or Yale eligibility was violated and the penalty should be paid by the offending athletes.

MEREDITH HERO OF GAMES

U. of P. Flyer Hangs Up World's Record in 500-Yard Run at N. Y. A. C. Meet.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Ted Meredith of the University of Pennsylvania last night won his second consecutive victory in the Buermeyer cup contest at the indoor games of the New York A. C.

In the classic 500-yard special Dave Caldwell, Boston A. A., finished second and "Billy" Moore of Princeton third. Meredith's time, 59 4-5 seconds, lowers the world's mark for the distance by two-fifths of a second. Moore set the pace, a killing one for about four fifths of the distance.

In the Basi[illegible] A. A. won over Willie Gordon, New York A. C. Joie Ray, Chicago A. C. landed third. Mike Devaney, Millrose A. A., though suffering a bad fall on the turn leading into the home stretch managed to beat out J. J. O'Neill, New York A. C. Ryan's time—4.40 3-5—was about the slowest in the history of the classic.

Howard Drew, University of California, raced to another victory in the special 100-yard dash. Bre[illegible] ng was about [illegible] and over a field of [illegible] Frank Sapiene[illegible] and Art [illegible] Moore was [illegible] The time was 9 4-5 sec[illegible]

PENN'S NEW COACH TO TALK TO SQUAD

By International News Service.

Philadelphia, Feb. 9.—Members of last fall's football squad of the University of Pennsylvania, who will be back next Fall, will forgather in answer to the first football call tomorrow night. Presumen and the members on the scrub teams also will be there to meet Head Coach Bob Folwell and his assistants. Plans for Spring practice will be outlined.

Braves Open Up at Brooklyn on April 12

The Braves open the championship season with four games with the Brooklyns at Brooklyn, and have the Dodgers as opponents when the curtain goes up on Braves' Field.

The champion Phillies come to Boston April 29 for four games, which series close the first home series of stallings' team.

The Braves finish the season away from home, their final game of the season here being with the Cardinals September 19.

In the draw for holidays the Braves put Bunker Hill Day, the Fourth of July and Labor Day, three big dates, if the team is up there fighting for the flag. There are thirteen Saturdays at home, which is a liberal sprinkling of half-holidays of the Summer months.

On the road the Braves have twelve Saturdays and six Sundays, with the Decoration Day date with Brooklyn. This is a morning and afternoon game program. The holiday is the only one Ebbets' team has at home.

The conflicting dates occur only at Chicago, and there are three, May 7, June 25 and September 16.

In presenting the schedule notice is served that it is agreed that in event of postponed games between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati, and between Chicago and St. Louis, in their last series of the schedule, and between St. Louis and Detroit, and Cleveland and Chicago, in their last series in the American League, they be permitted to play off such postponed games up to an including October 8 in the National League, and October 4 in the American League, which dates shall be considered the official closing dates of the respective leagues.

The National League agrees not to create double-headers on conflicting dates, save by American League consent, to be secured through President H. B. Johnson, except on the last trip if absolutely necessary.

HARVARD RELAY TO RUN AT PENN MEET

By International News Service.

Philadelphia, Feb. 9.—A record-breaking number of athletes are expected to take part in the University of Pennsylvania's two-day carnival, April 28 and 29. Harvard has sent word that it will be represented by its famous long-distance relay team in an effort to wrest the world's championship from the Pennsylvania quartet. Great interest is also being taken in the pentathlon and Ernest Harthing the Swedish Olympic coach, has also been engaged to bring over the two pentathlet stars Holmer and Lofman students at Upsala University.

Basketball Notes

TONIGHT the first game of the Shawmut-St. Francis series will be played at Rugnies Hall. St. Francis enters the game with Wm Snow, Billy Roes, Pete Cannon, Dickey Madden and Sweeney as members of their squad. This should be a most formidable five and one that will force the Shawmuts to the limit to win.

FRANK HOGARTY, Dick Healey, Frank Kane and Mike Kelleher, managers and presidents of the Shawmuts and St. John's Literary Institute fives, have signed the articles of agreement for the pending series. It was decided that the first of the final game would be played March 1 in the Shawmuts' hall, the second on March 8 in Cambridge and the third on either March 22 or 23 on some floor to be decided on later.

THE many followers of the sport who featured their Old Time O'Connor wouldn't be in the game any more this season are wrong, inasmuch as Okey is one of those banned to represent St. John's in the big series. Had he been on that roster has it that petty jealousy would have been the cause.

SHAWMUTS and the Franklin, N. H., team will shortly play the second game of their series. At present the series stands in favor of the New Hampshire five, which has the sole win to its credit. The locals hope to win the next game and ultimately win the series.

* * *

MICKEY McCANN, formerly of the Roxbury Insanas, is playing a fast game for the Waverly five. McCann is in the forward line and is making the best of them look.

* * *

OWING to an inspection the First Corps Cadets basketball team was forced to cancel its game with St. John's Literary Institute scheduled for tonight. Instead the Institutes will play the strong St. Joseph's A. A. team from the West End. Dolan, Galvin, Grant, Sheerin and McKenna will make up the West End five in Institute Hall.

Pin Tourney but One Month Away

With the league bowling season on the wane the fans are looking forward to the first tournament of the Greater Boston Chapter of the Atlantic Coast Bowling Association, which is to be held on the North Station Alleys, March 6.

This, the big wind-up event of the season, will be devoted exclusively to candlepins.

The A. C. B. A. was organized a year ago for the good of bowling, as it is only natural it should get support to the article bowled in this section.

The tournament is an open affair with no restriction, except that the roller belong to the association. The entrance fee is fifty cents, and entitles the member to his card, button, rule book, admission to any alley in the United States where an A. C. B. A. tournament is in progress and the right to have adjudicated by that body any question arising from bowling.

The events will consist of individual, two-men and five-men classes. The winning team will have its entry fee of $85 paid at the international tournament of the A. C. B. A., which starts April 2 in Washington, D. C. Entry blanks for the local tournament may be had by addressing the North Station Alley management, Friend street.

* * *

Lowell or Lawrence will be the location of a big duckpin tournament if the present plans of the A. C. B. A. are completed. The deceptive little pins take "flat" in that section. Rhode Island is to have a duckpin tournament, and it is possible Connecticut will stage one also.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

The Loop tournament is nearing close, the big five-man event being and the remainder of this month is likely to see some record-breaking bowling. The nights are given entirely to five-men teams with the afternoons given over to two men and doubles.

John the Baptist [illegible] well known New York bowling manager, issues a challenge to any bowler in Boston to bowl a ten or twenty-string match for $25 or $50 side bet. Okey is one of those banned to represent St. John's in the big series. Had he been on that roster has it that petty jealousy would have been the cause.

* * *

The Pleasants emerged the victors in their match with Kenney's All Stars. Two pins were the margin of triumph. 'Twas the Pleasants ninth straight victory.

Paul Poehler and Archie Walsh will clash in a special five-string match February 14 on Wardwell alleys, Quincy. This will be the [illegible] meeting between the pair. Walsh defeated Poehler for the New England championship.

* * *

Word comes from Lowell that Harry Perrin rolled [illegible] ten-string match on the Broadway Alleys. Here is the way they [illegible] 125, 116, 104, 129, 135, 119, 120 [illegible] 157, 114.

YALE MERMEN HANG UP NEW RELAY MARK

New Haven, Ct., Feb. 9.—Yale's swimming team won its dual meet with Cornell, 48-5, capturing every first and second place. Yale created a new intercollegiate record in the 4 relay, hanging up figures of 1:47 4-5. Jenks, Mayer, Ferguson and Seidel manned the team.

Golf Pros Hold Get-Together Talk in N.Y

New York Feb. 9.—Action to the amateur situation came to light when the committee of the golf professionals, who are organizing a professional golf association, met at the Hotel Martinique. While the United States Golf Association has the power to disbar any amateur for rules violations, such action would not necessarily make professionals of the banished players.

The professionals are pretty generally agreed that they will draw the lines in the new association no close and only active professionals, who hold positions at the clubs and teach golf, will be eligible.

Such a ruling would be hard on young players like Francis Ouimet, who would become golf outcast; neither an [illegible] nor professional if barred from the amateurs he would have to take a position at a club to become a professional.

Nothing definite was done by the "pros" except to discuss the class of members desired. A committee, consisting of Herbert Stronk, Jack Mackie and Jack Hobens, was appointed to meet with Thomas Enever and Jason Roxers, amateurs, and draw up articles of incorporation and prepare by-laws and rules. The committee will report the latter part of the week.

Don't Merely "Stop" a Cough

Stop the Thing that Causes It and the Cough will Stop Itself

A cough is really one of our best friends. It warns us that there is inflammation or obstruction in a dangerous place. Therefore when you get a cold or cough don't proceed to dose yourself with a lot of drugs that merely stop the cough temporarily by deadening the throat nerves. Treat the cause and the inflamed membranes. Here is a home-made remedy that gets right at the cause and will make the obstinate cough vanish more quickly than you ever thought possible.

Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) in a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. This gives you a full pint of the most pleasant and effective cough remedy you ever used, at a cost of only 54 cents. No bother to prepare. Full directions with Pinex.

It heals the inflamed membranes promptly and promptly shut you wonder how it does it. Also loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough and stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus easing the passage of loose cough

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, rich in guaiacol, and is famous the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for 2½ ounces of Pinex, and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.—Advertisement.

Forbes Points to Boston as Centre Where Future Generals of Business Warfare Are Being Trained—Tech Men to Become Real Victors After European War

REVIEWS TECH GRADUATES' TRIUMPHS

By B. C. FORBES.

New York, Feb. 8.—Do Americans know that their country has the greatest school in the whole world for teaching business scientifically?

Even Germany now has no institution comparable with ours.

The real victor after the war will be the nation that can best train armies of young men for commercial conquests, for trade creates wealth, and wealth means power.

This training must be not haphazard, but systematic, fundamental and scientific.

In the Massachusetts Institute of Technology the United States has an organization without a rival for teaching our youth how to apply science to industry to obtain the largest possible results.

* * *

Ponder these facts:

The institution has 180 professors and 200 other instructors—when founded fifty years ago, it had six professors.

It has 2,000 students, drawn from every State in the union and from every civilized country in the world. There are today fifty Chinese students alone, whereas half a century ago the total student roll was sixteen.

In June it will dedicate new quarters costing $7,000,000 and occupying fifty acres of land, half a mile wide, along the Charles River basin, at the very heart (in Cambridge) of Metropolitan Boston, and only three minutes' ride from its present site.

Harvard University will merge its department of applied science with the Institute, a combination that Theodore N. Vail, a staunch advocate of big and still bigger business, calls "one of the greatest events in the history of education in this country."

Thomas A. Edison says:

"I have found that graduates of the Boston Tech have better, more practical, more usable knowledge, as a class, than the graduates of any school in the country," and he proves his faith in it by sending his sons to be trained at it.

Its forte is turning out scientifically trained mechanical, electrical and mining engineers, chemists and architects, although to meet modern conditions it now trains many men for departments of public health. Pure science, however, is not neglected—one of its graduates is George Hale, secretary of the National Academy of Science and director of the Mount Wilson Solar Observatory, one of the worlds most distinguished astrophysicists.

No student is admitted until he has qualified for entry into a standard college, such as Princeton, Harvard, Yale. But more and more the entrants are graduates of such institutions, who intend to follow business careers.

The part that the Massachusetts Institute of Technology has played in equipping this country to enter and conquer foreign business fields cannot be gauged.

Even financier and corporation heads constantly tell you the need is less for money than for men, for brains scientifically trained to grapple with new problems in foreign countries, for young men of breeding, ambition and diplomacy.

It is an interesting circumstance that the man chosen to head the $50,000,000 American International Corporation organized by our ablest capitalists to raise America's place and power in the world's markets and industrial centres, is the president of the Institute's Alumni Association, Charles A. Stone.

Mr. Stone is typical of the new order of successful business men. He learned the technical and scientific branch of industry engineering at the Massachusetts Tech, saw the unlimited possibilities for electrical development of traction power and other public utility companies, combined his engineering knowledge with sound financial sense, and created an organization second to none in the country.

Stone & Webster, which controls some fifty utility corporations, has made fortunes for its partners, and given opportunity for hundreds of young engineers and other youths to win their way in the world.

Mr. Stone is taking the lead in arranging for the fitting celebration next June of the fiftieth anniversary of the opening of the institute and the dedication of its new $7,000,000 home.

* * *

Thousands of alumni from far and near will then assemble in Boston for a great reunion.

Since leaving their alma mater, many of them have done big things.

The Woolworth building was the conception of one architectural student, Cass Gilbert. John R. Freeman, consulting engineer of the Panama canal, imbibed his professional wisdom at M. I. T.

So did T. Coleman du Pont and Pierre S. du Pont, the powder kings; C. A. Coolidge, architect of the Harvard Medical school and many of the principal buildings of Chicago University; G. W. Kittredge, chief engineer of the New York Central; W. R. Whitney, director of the General Electric Company's research department, and member of the naval advisory board; Edwin S. Webster, of Stone & Webster; Samuel M. Felton, railroad president; Charles Hayden, of Hayden, Stone & Company; Arthur A. Noyes, noted chemical investigator; Charles T. Main, eminent mill engineer; Franklin W. Hobbs, president of the Arlington Mills; Arthur D. Little, prominent chemical engineer; T. W. Robinson of the Illinois Steel Company, and countless other men who have proved their title of high place in the world of action.

TODAY'S STOCK MARKET

By W. H. ROSS, Financial Editor

Stocks ranged higher in New York at the opening, but there were few to show more than fractional gains. Industrial Alcohol advanced two points and quickly lost part of the gain. New York Central rose more than a point. War order issues were the most active. Railroads and coppers were quiet, with the former irregular and the latter firm. Trading was of fair volume, measured by the recent standard. Washington reports that while the Lusitania case is not definitely settled there are no doubts but that an amicable adjustment of differences will be reached impaired confidence.

There was some hesitation on the part of traders, however, and it is likely to remain until there is an authoritative statement that Germany and the United States have come to an understanding. There are no indications of an expansion of speculation. Many leaders are of the opinion that the market will remain narrow and professional for some time. The one thing that would change the situation would be a resumption of buying by the public. The little outside demand now existing is chiefly for the shares of industrial corporations who have and are making huge profits from war contracts.

COPPERS BECAME ACTIVE.

Within half an hour coppers came to the front, Anaconda and Chino becoming especially active and strong. Anaconda advanced more than a point. There was no change as to rails. U. S. Steel had weakened, but partially recovered its lost advance. Car & Foundry and Beet Sugar were among the strongest industrials.

Gains at 10:15 included American Smelting ⅝, American Sugar ⅛, Anaconda ⅝, Chino ⅝, Utah Copper ½, Inspiration ½, U. S. Steel ⅛, Car & Foundry 1, American Locomotive ⅝, Baldwin ⅝, Colorado Fuel ⅝, Crucible ⅝, Great Northern Ore ½, Republic Steel ⅝, Distillers ½, Maxwell ¼, Studebaker ⅝, Westinghouse ⅝, Central Leather ½, Beet Sugar 1⅝, Industrial Alcohol 1½, Marine Certificates ⅝, Erie ⅝, Union Pacific ¼, St. Paul, ex-dividend, ⅝, Southern Pacific ⅛, Pennsylvania ⅛, N. Y. Central 1¼ and Canadian Pacific ⅝.

Among declines were Baltimore & Ohio ⅛, Goodrich ¼, Rock Island ⅛ and Texas Co. 1⅛.

LOCAL MARKET STRONG.

The Boston market opened firm, but was narrow at the beginning. Only a few stocks were traded in during the first few minutes. The list ruled fractionally higher. The local market, in fact, duplicated the one in New York on a small scale.

Early gains included American Woolen preferred ¼, Butte & Superior ½, Isle Royale ½, Mohawk ½, Old Dominion ⅛, United Fruit ½ and United Shoe ½.

Among declines were Shattuck-Arizona ⅛ and American Zinc ⅛.

U. S. Smelting was unchanged, as were Boston & Maine and Wolverine.

RAILWAY SHARES STEADIER.

Railway shares have been steadier for several days than for some time past and less is being said about liquidation of them by European holders.

It is presumed that agents in this country for their sale are waiting for the result of J. P. Morgan's visit to Paris and London.

It is understood he will visit the British capital before he returns home and perhaps discuss with British officials and bankers how American securities mobilized by the government can be best used as collateral for whatever additional loans allied powers may wish to negotiate in the United States.

This may account for the relaxation of selling pressure upon rail stocks on the New York exchange. It is said in financial districts that every steamship from Europe has been bringing American stocks and bonds, and it would be very enlightening to learn what the total of securities now held for sale on foreign account amounts to.

British and French holders as a rule have participated in mobilization solely for patriotism. American securities probably are regarded in Europe in higher esteem as investments than ever.

In London financial circles it is remarked that British capital has shown, at the least, as much readiness to jeopardize all its interests in support of the war as labor.

STRIKE FEARS A FACTOR.

In accounting for the laggardness of railroad stocks in rising in response to recent earnings, fear of a great strike is given by the majority of analysts as a reason second only to foreign selling.

Rail managements claim that although earnings have increased so much within five or six months, they cannot afford to accede to demands of the four brotherhoods. They maintain it would increase operating expenses of roads from 25 to 40 per cent.

More expenses mean less in dividends. If labor is worthy of its hire, the managements assert that capital is entitled to its interest.

If roads were allowed to raise transportation rates they could satisfy both stockholders and employes, but the public would have to pay the bill.

This question will loom large in national interest within a few weeks, as it affects the whole country.

There are about 622,000 stockholders concerned, besides engineers, firemen, conductors and other trainmen, estimated by the Interstate Commerce Commission to number 311,990. It is believed, however, that railroads and the brotherhoods will be able to come to an agreement without recourse to a strike, which would be likely to paralyze business and industry in this country more than anything that has ever happened.

A Player-Piano
FILLS YOUR HOME WITH MUSIC.

This picture tells the story of the Player-Piano in the Home.

When music comes into the home, the sunshine of happiness and restful comfort enter with it. The home becomes more attractive, not only to the children, but to their associates and friends.

If you have an idle piano—with no one to play it—exchange it for a player-piano, then you can play and enjoy the full pleasure of music. The instrument can be played by hand in the ordinary way or by inserting a roll of music, which we furnish FREE of charge; therefore no training in music is necessary.

Our Co-operative Player-Piano Club
Saves You More Than $100

By joining our club you pay only the "co-operative plan" price—we'll make a liberal allowance for your piano—and the balance in cash or monthly payments. You receive the Player-Piano at once with a stool or bench and music; freight paid to destination.

Congress Ought to Pass Farm Bills at Once

LET it be understood in Washington and elsewhere that immediate legislation helpful to the agricultural interests of the country is just as much a part of the national defence as the building of a greater navy or the reorganization of the army.

It is just as urgent, it is just as necessary in peace or war.

War in Europe has come now to a matter of resources more than a matter of armies or of navies. The question is, Can the allies starve the Teutonic allies into surrender?

The German agricultural system has stood so far and still stands as an insuperable barrier to the project of starving her into submission.

So that the agricultural system of Germany and Austria, carefully planned by the most scientific methods and fully vindicated by fifty years of trial, is the very Gibraltar behind which those nations stand in their supreme hour of trial. The agricultural bills before Congress are builded exactly upon this system.

The Congress of the United States has it in its power to establish now in advance of all other preparedness measures the indestructible foundation of our agricultural system, which has to furnish food and the resources of this country.

Congress can settle this agricultural legislation now because it is not really disputed by anybody as to its wisdom and efficiency, and because it is not opposed upon the basis of economy.

The three great agricultural bills before the Sixty-fourth Congress have no real basis of opposition. They don't cost any particular sum of money. They don't require any very great degree of argument. They are founded upon systems whose value and efficiency have been tested in the greatest national emergencies that the world has ever known.

The Southern Commercial Congress, which stands more than any other organized body for the economic interests of the South, and more perhaps than any organized body in the country stands for any other section of the country, is the author of the movement for bringing all the wisdom and all the experience of the Old World to the problem of our agricultural conditions in America.

This Southern organization, inspired by the great David Lubin, organized the American Commission to which President Wilson added the United States Commission, and these two commissions went with the utmost deliberation through all the agricultural regions of Europe, Germany, Austria, England and France, to study and bring home the best things that the ages had taught those older people to do in order to make agriculture supremely prosperous, and eternally the prime resource of those countries in time of need.

This commission studied these systems at first hand long and well and have brought home the fruits of their investigations in the bills now before Congress.

Congress ought to pass those bills NOW.

If Congress delays in increasing the navy and rebuilding the army because of questions of money and questions of policy, there are no such reasons to prevent or to delay the prompt passage of these wise, able agricultural bills, and to lay the foundation stone of the national defence at least, even if it delays the others.

It is folly and hesitation which cannot be understood and which cannot be forgiven if Congress fails or delays to pass these bills. There can be no possible mistake in passing them, and in passing them now. If there should be anything imperfect in them as presented, there are future years and future Congresses in which to amend and perfect the application of these bills to American conditions.

The thing to do is to pass them NOW.

The first bill and the central bill is that for marketing the national crops.

All the minor shades of opinion revolving around this bill put together are not sufficient to justify the delay in passing it.

It merely calls for the appointment by the President of a national marketing commission of seven members, authorized to organize in the several States the agricultural producers. Whenever an application signed by not less than twenty-five producers in a county is presented, a certificate of organization shall be issued for a county chamber of agriculture. Whenever one-third of the counties in a State have been organized they may apply for and receive a certificate for a State chamber of agriculture, and twenty organized States may proceed under the law to elect representatives from each State to constitute a semi-official national chamber of agriculture, which shall then succeed the appointed commission of seven and be empowered to grant all future certificates of membership.

That is all. There is no practical objection that can be urged to it, and therefore there should be no delay in putting it to work.

This national committee shall proceed along the lines suggested in the article of last week, to develop all available information and all the resources of the best eligible markets for the individual products of individual farmers, and make them wise to the places and methods by which they can best sell what they develop from the soil.

This is the central proposition.

The second and collateral proposition is like unto it and indispensable to the development of the first.

That is the utilization of the parcel post to distribute in the best and quickest and most effective way the products of the soil directly from the producer to the consumer.

This application of the enlarged parcel post making direct interchange between the producer and the consumer, it is confidently stated in the light of the record, will increase to an immense degree the prosperity of the farmer, will eliminate the trust and the tyranny of the middlemen, and will necessarily and inevitably reduce the high cost of living.

That it is absolutely practicable is demonstrated by the testimony of the best and soundest men in agriculture and in business lines in the country. The system will adopt and use the labor saving, the time saving and the money saving methods now a part of the great mail order houses, so as to build up a large mail order trade between the producer and the consumer through the medium of the parcel post.

It receives its inspiration and its high indorsement from the great mail order business for forty years in operation in this country. Twenty-five years ago the high water mark of business in these mail order houses was $25,000 a year. To-day there are two of these mail order houses which do a business of over $100,000,000 a year. Each of these great houses endorses the plan.

The practicability of the plan has been established in three remarkable hearings before Congress—the first in Washington, when experts of the Post Office gave their criticisms and opinions; the second in Chicago, with experts of Montgomery, Ward & Company, and the third in Chicago, with experts of Sears, Roebuck & Company.

Each of these agreed that the plan was practicable and that it contained possibilities of untold value to the agricultural element and to the country.

A system for such trade has already been put into operation by the United States Post Office Department as part of the parcel post service, but the system used by the Post Office Department is more primitive and crude than were the mail order systems of forty years ago.

With a valid commission to take this vital matter up and press it to a consummation and application is an immediate, pressing, magnificent opportunity and duty for the members of the Sixty-fourth Congress.

Gentlemen of the Sixty-fourth Congress, do this practical, vital thing, and do it now.

It will not only make the farmer economically stronger, richer and happier, but it will inevitably make the nation stronger and mightier, even than its fine ships or fine soldiers can make it.

Once more, while we hesitate and delay over the great questions of the greater navy and the stronger army, let no patriotic representative of the people delay a day longer than is absolutely necessary in planning the foundations of the national defence in the National Chamber of Agriculture.

Industrial Hygiene

By Woods Hutchinson, M. D.

The World's Best Known Writer on Medical Subjects.

PART ONE

THE development of industrial hygiene during the last thirty years is like the growth of a baby; for the science itself was only born about forty years ago, reached the age of consent less than a decade since and is not yet old enough to vote.

The stride from zero to something plus must necessarily be a long and tremendous one, greater in fact than any ever taken by the fabled Seven League Boots.

And the growth is neither gigantic nor acromegalic nor hydrocephalic. It's perfectly normal and healthy, and the science is in the big, husky boy stage with plenty of promise of future growth and abundant room for further improvement.

It is already manufacturing health for the millions, and the most important product of modern industry is the type of women and children who can live and grow up on their wages.

While we speak, and truthfully, of industrial diseases and the menace of shop conditions to health, broadly considered, modern industry is and has proved itself hygienic and health-improving to an overwhelming degree, and its largest and most valuable output has been health in cur load lots.

From the other point of view, improved health, which means increased working power and efficiency, has been one of its most important assets and factors in its success.

Modern industry could no more have scored its superb triumphs without the aid of the doctor than Panama could have been dug across without Gorgas.

But whichever end one prefers to take hold of it by, the broad fact remains that modern industry based upon the conquests of science has done more to improve the health of humanity than any other ten influences since the dawn of history.

Only the high lights of the proofs can be touched upon. First of all, in the last thirty to forty years the death rates of all civilized countries have been greatly reduced, the average length of life increased, the disease rate enormously lessened, and the average wages and wealth per capita hugely multiplied in spite of an enormous increase in population.

Letters from American Readers

THE EIGHT-HOUR DAY

Editor BOSTON AMERICAN:

Dear Sir—I noticed in reading your editorial, which appeared in the AMERICAN on February 4, relative to the eight-hour day, that in specifying the rates paid the different classes of workers you had the engineers' rate as $5.24 per day. While this may be true in some parts of the United States, it is higher than the average daily rate paid to the engineers on the New England railroads.

For example, the average daily rate paid to the engineers on the New Haven lines is $4.32 per day, or 92c less than quoted in your editorial. While the average daily rate paid on the Boston & Albany is $4.85, or thirty-nine cents less than quoted in your editorial this is really an unfair average as can be seen, inasmuch as I have, to obtain this unfair average of $4.85, included a $5.85 rate paid only on four heavy Mallet engines, which, are rated to pull from 600 to 650 tons more than the next heaviest freight engine. Excluding this $5.85 rate, paid only on these four Mallet engines, the average daily rate would then be 4.69 1-2, or 55c less than quoted by the AMERICAN.

The rate per mile on the Boston & Maine is about the same as that of the Boston & Albany.

The rates herein mentioned are for a 10-hour day, or the equivalent in miles, minus overtime. Therefore, in justice to the engineers on the New England railroads, it is earnestly requested that the above be given publication when space in your valuable paper will permit.

Thanking you in advance for this favor, I remain,

Respectfully yours,

F. J. OTTERSON,

Chairman, Engineers' Committee Boston & Albany R. R., Auburndale, February 7.

The Flying Machine and the Great City

An Interesting Prophecy by James Simpson of Chicago. What Will the REALLY Greatest City Be?

Copyright, 1916, by the Star Company.

We reproduce below from the New York American an interesting prophecy by James Simpson of Chicago.

He talks very convincingly on his thought that Chicago is destined to be the greatest city in the world. New York is the greatest city now, having passed London because the war has taken so many men out of London.

The Boston AMERICAN'S opinion is that it is more important to be good than to be great, but very comfortable to be great.

As to the cities, we think that flying machines, now buzzing in the air in the suburbs, may have something to say about cities and their greatness.

Make the flying machine a success and the city of millions as it exists now may be a thing of the past. The great city will be a huge structure of glass and iron, devoted to business offices, lawyers' offices, court houses, certain kinds of industry, wholesale and retail trade.

Flying machines will land on the roofs of this great city made all of one building. They will bring the workers to work, the shoppers, the buyers to the iron, steel and glass city in the morning, take them back at night.

The worker in the city will go in a flying machine to his home on one of the many hilltops now uninhabited, wasted.

There will be no city dwellers at night, no slums, no narrow and ill-ventilated streets.

Trolleys along the roofs of the city will take people where they want to go, and then they will go DOWN in ELEVATORS instead of going up in elevators.

While waiting for that change which WILL come, readers will be interested in the opinions of the distinguished Chicago citizen quoted from the New York American.

Mr. Simpson says:

"Not in a spirit of boasting or through excess of local pride do the citizens of Chicago declare that their city is to be the greatest in America, the greatest in the world—and soon.

"It is a matter of simple calculation and reasoning.

"Bigness of cities depends no longer upon circumstances, geographical or otherwise. And Chicago is justified in saying, as Napoleon did, 'Circumstances? I make circumstances.'

"Chicago's power to control conditions is illustrated in the river that used to flow through Chicago into Lake Michigan, and now flows through Chicago OUT OF LAKE MICHIGAN, taking the waste of Chicago away from the lake instead of washing it into the lake—a river 'turned upside down' because Chicago wanted it to run the other way.

"That same river illustrates the fact that Chicago soon will control what is supposed to be the great necessity of the great city—access to the ocean by water.

"The supremacy of New York is based upon the fact that it is situated on the edge of the ocean—also upon the fact that it is the nearest great city to the trade of Europe, the best port near Europe.

"Nearness to Europe becomes ever less important.

"The great trade of America is a trade with America.

"This nation is an aggregation of nations, stretching from one ocean to the other, and from the cold of the North to the heat of Florida. More and more our great trade will be among our own States of America—the genius of America and the wealth of America creating and purchasing from Americans and for Americans.

"And Chicago is destined to be more and more the great clearing house of that ever-increasing national trade.

"Man's ingenuity makes it no longer necessary that any city be on the ocean in order to have ocean trade. Chicago will bring the ocean to Chicago by making a water road from the lakes to the ocean.

"Chicago will see big ships coming to the Chicago docks and the docks of the other lake cities from the East, going back East through canals to the Atlantic Ocean.

"And even earlier, Chicago will be made a seaport via the Mississippi, and that little Chicago River of ours magnified into a great permanent canal.

"A small part of the money that Europe is devoting to war and murder in one month would make Chicago a seaport. If Europe can afford to spend such sums on killing, the United States can afford to spend them on building, and will spend them.

"Chicago docks will be a starting point for ocean-going ships, sailing south to the Gulf, then west through the canal to Asia and east to Europe, and for ships sailing the lakes eastward to the Atlantic.

"New York, great and admirable, has America on only one side of her. On the other side is the ocean, non-productive.

"Chicago has the United States on all sides.

"With its geographical location at the head of the Great Lakes, and within a radius of from two to five hundred miles in any direction the richest farming district in the world, coupled with the spirit which dominates the people of Chicago, it is inevitable that this city will ultimately become the greatest city of the United States and of the world in population, in wealth, in manufacture, as a railroad centre, a shipping centre; in short, the heart of the United States and the greatest city on the earth.

"The ambition for mere size or wealth, if not coupled with something bigger, would in itself be deplorable, but the determined ambition of every right-thinking citizen in our city (and their name is legion) is that Chicago may rapidly develop into a city where the people who live within its confines shall constantly become better and happier men and women.

"The ambitious plans of the Chicago Plan Commission, which contemplates greatly increased parks, boulevards, forest preserves, conservation of our lake front, etc., and many playgrounds located in all parts of our city, some of which have been carried out and others which are in progress today, prove conclusively that the welfare and happiness of the people of our city are not being overlooked in the plans for the future.

"Happiness and the welfare of the people of the city being our first aim, bigness and wealth must necessarily be subordinate thereto, but I am one of those who believe that they may and should go hand in hand, and that during the next fifty years Chicago will give the world a practical demonstration of this fact, and that it will more rapidly than ever become the Mecca of travelers from the world over."
